LONDON (CP)—Boston bombers, escorted by fighters, bombed the docks at Le Havre and Cherbourg in two separate operations against German positions in France today, an announcement said tonight.

Shipbuilding Report

OTTAWA (CP)—The report of the Royal Commission which investigated the shipbuilding situation in British Columbia may be made public within a few days, labor department officials said this afternoon.

Woman Acquitted

VANCOUVER (CP)—Magistrate H. S. Wood today acquitted Mrs. Kay Davies, 28, of a charge of being in possession of a sketch of a fortified place "in a manner likely to be prejudicial to the safety of the state."

Mrs. Davies said the sketch was drawn by her brother to explain the location of a dance hall.

Blasting at Sweden

NEW YORK (AP)—German propaganda delivered a sharp attack today on neutral Sweden, a Berlin Transocean Agency broadcast quoting German foreign office circles as saying that "Sweden has the honor of being at present the active central comintern in Europe."

Prisoners Killed

LONDON (CP)—Reuters News Agency in a Cairo story tonight quoted a captured sergeant of a German armored division as saying the Nazis had used prisoners to dig anti-tank ditches when the Germans stormed and took Tobruk two months ago. Many of the prisoners were killed and wounded.

'Rest' for Bombers

OTTAWA (CP)—Pilots of the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. who finish their long quota of successful bombings over Germany become "resting pilots." R.C.A.F. headquarters said here this afternoon. But the process is far from restful.

After completing a number of operational sorties, the pilots are sent to various schools in Britain and Canada, where they run a "taxi service" for airman training as pilots, bomb aimers, navigators, wireless operators and air gunners.

Bomber Crashes

NEWARK, O. (AP)—A U.S. army bomber crashed among a group of homes just north of the business district here this afternoon and killed at least one civilian after two crewmen had fallen to their deaths—one plunging through the roof of a doctor's office, the other landing on a railroad platform.

Several persons, all residents of three homes struck by the plane, were reported hurt. The body of a woman, burned beyond recognition, was found wedged against one of the houses.

Capt. Smith Honored

Word has been received here that Capt. John Bisset Smith, master of the C.P.R. liner Empress of Asia when she was lost off Singapore last February, has been made an officer of the Order of the British Empire.

R.C.A.F. Aircraft Lost Since Sunday

An extensive search by aircraft and surface vessels is being conducted in the waters off the southern end of Vancouver Island for an R.C.A.F. twin-engine medium bomber, missing since last Sunday afternoon, it was announced Monday by Western Air Command.

The missing aircraft was engaged in an operational training flight from a Western Air Command station. No announcement was made as to the number of men aboard.

R.C.A.F. authorities request that any person who may have seen or heard an aircraft in difficulties or who has information that may lead to discovery of the missing craft to notify Western Air Command, Victoria, immediately.

British Troops Prepare to Fight in Russia

Japs Advancing Toward Moresby In New Drive

By JURLIN SPENCER
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia (AP)—Japanese jungle fighters, forcing back Allied advance patrols, have pushed up into the Owen Stanley Range and are in contact with the Allied defence lines in mountains guarding the way across southeast New Guinea to Port Moresby, Allied headquarters announced today.

A communique said fighting was on an expanded scale from earlier patrol clashes. It is not immediately clear whether the Japanese had won their way through the principal pass in the mountains or whether the Allied defence line still guarded the high gap.

The communique spoke of a series of frontal attacks by the enemy, combined with envelopment.

The scene of the Japanese advance was described as the Kokoda Myola area.

Kokoda, scene of recent patrol clashes, is 1,000 feet above sea level on the north side of the range some 60 miles from Port Moresby. Myola, mentioned for the first time in today's communique, is 6,000 feet above sea level, some eight miles south of Kokoda on the way to the Allied port.

The fighting, which had consisted largely of patrol skirmishes, widened in extent and bitterness and both sides sent planes skimming over the mountain peaks to join in the struggle.

The drive to Myola came after another Japanese force, landed at Milne Bay in an apparent effort to move up the southern coast to Port Moresby on the Allies' side of the mountain range, walked into ambush and disaster.

Some Japanese were still lurking in the Milne Bay area on the extreme southeastern tip of New Guinea, but today's communique said the Allied mopping-up operations there were "nearing completion." Taking advantage of unfavorable flying weather which prevented Allied air attacks, Japanese naval units entered the bay Sunday and Monday night and shelled the Allied positions, it was reported.

Col. Art Fraser Gets Battalion

COL. ART FRASER

TORONTO (CP)—Lt. Col. A. H. Fraser of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry has been named commanding officer of the 1st Battalion, Royal Regiment of Canada overseas, which participated in the Dieppe raid, it was announced today by Col. D. H. C. Mason, officer commanding the regiment's 2nd Battalion (Reserve).

Col. Fraser succeeds Lt. Col. D. E. Catto of Toronto. He served in the ranks with the Canadian Scottish Regiment of British Columbia from 1922 and was commissioned as a lieutenant in October, 1928. In June, 1931, he was transferred to the Princess Pats as a lieutenant and was promoted to captain in 1939.

(Col. Fraser is a son of Mrs. Fraser of 1302 Rockland Ave. and the late W. S. Fraser. Two brothers are serving overseas, Capt. C. and Pte. W. Fraser. All three are native sons of Victoria.)

Bomb in Factory

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Discovery of a powerful time bomb in the Western Electric Company's vast Kearny plant was disclosed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation today with the arrest of an employee who supposedly had found it.

E. E. Conroy, assistant F.B.I. director, said the bomb had been set to explode at 11 p.m. Sunday, but that at 10:42 p.m. it was turned over to company guards by Bernard Joseph O'Donnell, 21, of Teaneck. Guards ripped out wires to prevent a detonation.

2nd Front Plans Made in July, Says White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced today, after President Roosevelt had made it plain that preparations were under way for opening a second front in Europe, that the "necessary decisions regarding military operations" were made at a London conference between British and American officials in July.

The conferences, held with Prime Minister Churchill and the British chiefs of staff, lasted 10 days and covered the whole conduct of the war.

The United States government was represented by Harry L. Hopkins as President Roosevelt's personal representative, Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and Admiral Ernest J. King, chief of naval operations.

PLENTY OF OPENINGS

The decisions on military operations were, of course, not revealed, although Mr. Roosevelt in his radio "fireside chat" Monday night pointed out there are at least a dozen different places at which attacks could be launched. (See President's radio address, page 10).

"In due time," said the President, "you will know what these decisions are and so will our enemies. I can say now that all of these decisions are directed toward taking the offensive."

There was a probability that the meetings, described by the White House as important, were related directly to the recent conferences in Moscow between Mr. Churchill, Premier Stalin and W. Averell Harriman, American lend-lease agent in England.

'Rommel Loses Punch'—Willkie

ANKARA (AP)—"Rommel is in a hole," Wendell Willkie said here today. "I am convinced that Rommel (Axis commander in Egypt) has lost 40 per cent of his punch."

Mr. Willkie, on his mission as President Roosevelt's special representative, arrived here from Cairo.

Central Caucasus Line Holds

Regrouped Russians Battle Nazi Wedge at Stalingrad

BATTLE FOR STALINGRAD—Men, planes, tanks and guns make history once again—this time in and around Stalingrad. This is artist Harry Grissinger's conception of the furious struggle for the Volga city as Russian soldiers and civilians fight side by side to repel the Nazi hordes.

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW (AP)—Defenders of Stalingrad were reported firmly regrouped today against reinforced German shock troops seeking to enlarge a new and dangerous salient in the western defenses by nonstop attacks, and southwestern lines also held on battlefields stained with blood.

A Red army detachment took the initiative in a raid Monday night, destroyed the headquarters of a Rumanian battalion south of the city, killed 80 Rumanian officers and men and blew up seven Axis ammunition trucks, the midday communique said.

Nazis Lose Ground in Moxdok Area

German wedges into Russian positions in the Novorossisk area of the western Caucasus, but were either driven back or held fast in the Moxdok region of the central Caucasus and they lost additional positions to the Russians on the central and northwestern fronts, it was announced.

Five or more attacks on Stalingrad from the west were repulsed Monday, but one Red army force then was compelled to retreat to new positions and Nazi formations flowed into the gap, the midday communique announced.

Southwestern lines were declared to have held firmly against several large-scale assaults. The Information Bureau said eight tanks were blown from a formation of 30 which made a vain attack on a Red army artillery battery.

The midday bulletin made no mention of the combat northwest of Stalingrad, where Soviet forces were reported in two previous communiqués to have bettered their situation through counterattacks.

"In the Barents Sea," the communique also announced, "the Soviet air force sank an enemy transport of 5,000 tons."

British military and diplomatic sources in London expressed belief that more depends on the battle for Stalingrad than on any battle in Russia since the Germans were thrown back before Moscow early last December.

Germans Claim They Are on Heights

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts/AF)—The German high command claimed today that German troops had "taken further stubbornly defended heights" within the fortified area of Stalingrad.

It was claimed that 168 Russian planes were shot down Sunday and Monday, against a loss of five German aircraft.

The communique said 6,738 Russians had been taken prisoner in the battle for the fort and harbor of Novorossisk, a provisional station of the Soviet Black Sea fleet.

In addition, it added, the Russians suffered "exceptionally heavy casualties."

The high command asserted that booty captured at Novorossisk included several ships and an armored train, 14 tanks and 90 guns of all types.

Fighting is continuing around the seaport, the war bulletin reported, "with the enemy troops bitterly defending themselves."

Germans Back Where They Began

Rommel Tries to Hold Gap

ACTION ON EGYPTIAN FRONT—OOPS, THAT ONE WAS CLOSE—An apparently imperturbable British Tommy in a Bren gun carrier pokes his head out of his vehicle just as an enemy shell bursts a few yards in front of him. That's the action on the Egyptian desert front where death strikes fast on the hot wasteland of North Africa. Photo radioed from Cairo.

CAIRO (AP)—Axis anti-tank batteries were deployed today in an attempt to hold a passage through the British minefield in the western desert while Field Marshal Rommel halted and regrouped his battered main forces near the starting point of his ill-fated second bid for the Nile valley.

Headquarters said there were no developments worthy of note in the southern sector Friday, but "although enemy air activity was on a reduced scale, at least six enemy aircraft were destroyed for a loss of only one of ours."

"Last night our night fighters shot down at least three enemy bombers in the (Nile) delta area," it said. "A direct hit is claimed by a heavy bomber crew on any enemy vessel in the eastern Mediterranean."

Axis detachments were reported established in the El Himsimat area, permitting the German and Italian desert forces to use the 700-foot high peak as an observation post. Reports from the desert said Nazi reinforcements had put "more sting in the Axis tail."

But the bulk of the tank and infantry forces with which Rommel launched his drive had backtracked to an area within a few miles of their jumping-off point. Allied planes, British light tanks, armored cars and mobile guns maintained their pressure.

British lines remained intact all along the El Alamein front from the Mediterranean to the Qattara Depression.

Russia Gets Canadian Wheat

LONDON (CP)—A credit agreement under which Russia may draw up to approximately 9,000,000 bushels of hard spring wheat or flour was signed at Canada House today by representatives of the Canadian and Soviet governments.

(In Ottawa Trade Minister Mackinnon's office simultaneously announced the credit was $10,000,000.)

High Commissioner Vincent Massey and Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky signed this first major wheat deal ever negotiated between the countries, at a brief formal ceremony culminating eight months of negotiations.

Terms of the agreement were not announced but a statement released to the press said the British ministry of food had undertaken to act as agents for the Dominion and that some deliveries had already been made. The wheat is of the same quality as that supplied the United Kingdom.

OTHER MEASURES

The announcement said: "Conclusion of the agreement is a source of great satisfaction to both parties and it is to be hoped it may be forerunner to closer economic relations in better times to come."

The new credit is believed to be more or less an interim loan which may be increased later if Russia is unable to feed her people from her own supplies or from wheat delivered under lease-lend agreement with the United States.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Wendell Willkie's mission to Ankara probably represents the most important phase of his tour as personal representative of President Roosevelt, for on his shoulders rests the burden of strengthening Turkey's belief at a critical time in the Allies' ability to win the war.

That's a great mission, for the Turks must not be allowed to waver if all-important Middle East is to be preserved. They want to believe in the Allies, and undoubtedly do, but it takes a mighty faith to withstand the demonstration of power which Hitler is staging in the Caucasus, not far north of the Turkish border.

GREETED BY HUNDREDS

Mr. Willkie's arrival at the capital was achieved in such manner that all might see—both friends and foes. The result was that his advent at the Ankara airport was in the nature of a minor triumph, for the diplomatic corps—minus the Axis representatives—turned out to meet him, and several hundred Turks were among those who greeted him.

This must have put Berlin's nose out of joint, for only Monday the Nazis announced in a broadcast that Ankara was about to give the American envoy the cold shoulder. It doesn't look like a case of refrigeration, especially since Turkish Foreign Minister Memetoglu is entertaining Willkie at dinner.

The presidential representative has arrived at what looks like the psychological moment—close to the peak of the crisis in the battle of the Middle East. He executive.

Island Miners Accept Negotiation Plan

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—Officials of the Nanaimo local of the United Mine Workers of America today were advised that the Cumberland local had accepted as satisfactory the appointment of a commission under the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act to deal with the miners' request for wage increases.

(The Nanaimo local, at a week-end meeting, expressed satisfaction with the appointment of the commission and named a committee to prepare a case for the union in conjunction with the battle of the Middle East. He executive.)

The position today on the Russian front is such as to emphasize President Roosevelt's declaration in his broadcast Monday night that Russia will hold, despite any setbacks, and with the help of her Allies will ultimately "drive every Nazi from her soil."

It is well that Willkie is in Ankara at this juncture to reinforce this news of Allied fighting power with information regarding the growing strength of the United Nations. It will help the Turks stand firm.

Building of Ships Apace With Sinkings

He gave cheering news of the war at sea with the report that, though losses still are heavy, they had dropped so sharply they are at a slower rate than replacements through new building. "Our warfare on U-boats," he added, "has been more successful than at any other period in the war."

Churchill Says Armies in Iraq Aid Soviet Flank

LONDON (CP)—A British army is rapidly being strengthened in Iran and Iraq "which may eventually give support" to Soviet Russia's imperiled left flank, Prime Minister Churchill disclosed today, indicating British preparation to enter directly into the battle of Russia if necessary.

His statement came in a detailed war report to the House of Commons which reflected confidence in the Allied situation generally in the air, and at sea and, specifically, on the vital Western Desert of Egypt.

He called the Dieppe raid more than a commando attack, a reconnaissance in force which was an "indispensable preliminary" to greater undertakings.

Thus, the Prime Minister pictured Hitler as blocked at one side of his great 1942 campaign for control of the Mediterranean and the Trans-Caucasus and possibly about to come to grips with a new, strong British force on the other.

Britain, he reported to Parliament, "may be confident in our ability to maintain a successful defence of Egypt not for days or weeks but for several months ahead."

5-6th of Attackers At Dieppe Canadians

Speaking of Dieppe, Mr. Churchill said "military credit for this most gallant affair goes to the Canadian troops who formed five-sixths of the assaulting force and to the Royal Navy, which carried them all there and carried most of them back."

Mention of the Canadians was greeted with cheers.

"The raid must be considered as a reconnaissance in force," Mr. Churchill continued. "It was a hard, savage clash such as are likely to become increasingly numerous as the war deepens. We had to get information necessary before launching operations on a much larger scale."

"I do not intend to give any information about the operation and I have only said as much as I have because the enemy can see by daily reconnaissance of our ports many signs of movement that we are unable to conceal from his photography."

Declaring that "the tendencies of war have continued to move in our favor" since he last addressed the House, Mr. Churchill disclosed that in the period from June to the first week of September "we have dropped a double bomb load on Germany compared with the same period last year."

Of the Middle East and Russia, which he visited during Parliament's recess and reports on which many members had awaited expectantly, Mr. Churchill said the results—"although now secret"—will "justify any trouble or expense incurred when they become apparent."

Winter Coming To Russia's Aid

Of the Russian front, Mr. Churchill had but one terse comment, an oblique reference to the fact that Hitler still has not gained his objective against the Soviet Union, and that another Russian winter is not far behind the Axis armies.

"I will only at this moment say," the Prime Minister observed, "it is the eighth of September."

British-Canadian-U.S. Raids

Bombers Rake Utrecht, Rotterdam Shipyards

LONDON (CP)—British, Canadian and U.S. air forces, continuing their day-and-night assaults on the Nazis, climaxed two days of intense activity with raids Sunday on the railroad yards at Utrecht and the Scheidam shipyards at Rotterdam—the longest recorded operational flight of the American flying fortresses followed up R.A.F. daylight raids on Emden, Bremerhaven and other targets in western Germany with a smashing attack into Nazi-held territory. The U.S. bombers returned intact by fighting off a swarm of German fighters and shooting down 12 of them.
It was the 10th attack in Europe by the giant bombers since they entered the European theatre Aug. 17.
"The fortresses have amazed the experts again," the air correspondent of the London Daily Mail wrote.
One Canadian fighter squadron was among the escort for the fortresses, two others made diversionary attacks. The Spitfires swept to Utrecht, a 300-mile round trip, while escorting and carrying out the primary raid. The Canadians were led by Sqdn. Ldrs. Norm Bretz of Toronto, John Fee of Calgary and Keith Hodson of London, Ont.
German bombers made their appearance over England last night, planes being noted over East Anglia, the home counties and London. But a communiqué said the few bombs dropped caused slight damage. One person was injured. Flares were dropped in the London area, but heavy anti-aircraft fire drove off the planes.

before bombs were released. One invading bomber was reported destroyed.
The raiders which appeared Sunday night dropped flares of an unusual type. Thousands who watched in the streets described them as resembling "silver rain."
The only bombs, however, were in two areas of the home counties.

Drab Trading

TORONTO (CP)—In a drab session the stock market today showed only minor changes with the gains coming close to balance. The Toronto 300 index had a small index set back and gains were up slightly. Volume was little greater than 50,000 shares.
Steep Rock and Ontario changed hands in light volume and both were down slightly at the close.
Narrow advances were held by Dome, Kerr-Addison, Aunor and Pioneer against minor losses for Hollinger and Preston.
Losses of 1/4 to 1/2 for British Dominion and Vermilata were the only changes in the western oil list.

Address Changes Cause Delay

New Ration Books Mailed Old Coupons Still Good

Mailing of more than 150,000 new ration books from the Victoria rationing office has been completed, the books to be used immediately when purchasing tea, coffee and sugar.
Meanwhile, the office is literally swamped with inquiries from citizens whose addresses have been changed since the temporary ration cards were issued.
In all such cases where the new address was left with the post office for mail to be forwarded, the new ration books, instead of being forwarded direct to the new address were by arrangement between the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and the Postmaster-General, returned to the ration office for a record of the new address to be taken.
These ration books are now pouring into the Victoria office, the new addresses recorded and the books remailed to the correct addresses as soon as possible. Some citizens in these circumstances may have to wait as long as a week until their new books are dealt with.
Temporary ration cards are still valid, it is announced.
Meanwhile the Prices Board at Ottawa forestalling a host of possible rationing questions, today issued a new order bringing ration regulations up to date.
The new board order offered answers to a wide miscellany of points about which Canadians have been wondering since the new books were first issued.
Tea and coffee coupons in the permanent ration books are effective beginning Sept. 7, the board said, but the coupons on temporary ration cards distributed last June are still valid. However, the board emphasized that the tea and coffee coupons on the temporary books are each good for only one week's ration, while those in the permanent books each have the value of two weeks' ration.
The new ration book coupons become valid only at intervals of four weeks, the order said. Coupons 1 and 2 are good from Sept. 7; the next pair from Oct. 5, and so on up to the odd one, No. 13, which may be used on and after Feb. 22, 1943.
As each coupon covers two weeks' supply it represents two ounces of tea or eight ounces of coffee or "that quantity of coffee concentrate or substitute containing coffee normally required to make 25 cups of beverage," the board said.
The following clarifying points were covered in the board statement:
1. The tea-coffee coupons are not so marked, only the sugar coupons being designated. Tea-coffee coupons are the second series in the book, green in color, and marked "spare A."
2. Only children who were 12 years old on June 25 last can get the tea and coffee ration. This will hold until the new books come out in March, 1943.
3. No ration book, card or coupon is valid after the death of the holder, when such book or card must be forwarded by his legal representative to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office.
4. If your ration book is destroyed or damaged and unfit for use, you must make a statutory declaration, on a form available at the board offices, before receiving a new book. When this is issued it will not bear a serial number, and the former serial number must be entered on the new book.
5. Members of the armed forces on leave and visitors to Canada may be issued temporary ration cards. The coupons attached to such cards may be used at any time, having no valid dates.
6. Consumers may leave their ration books with their retailer for safe keeping, with orders to detach coupons as deliveries are made.
7. An operator of a boarding house, if not registered as operator of an institution, may buy tea and coffee as a consumer, in which case each boarder will be deemed a person in the "household."
8. After Oct. 1, all public caterers and institutions will obtain their tea and coffee supplies by drawing against a quota which will be set by the supervisor of rationing and based on the number of meals served during the previous quarter.
(Under the old order such persons were given a quota of 70 per cent of last year's consumption. The new procedure is established to provide greater flexibility, the board said.)
9. No basic change is made in the procedure to be followed by retailers and others in replenishing their stocks, but some minor changes have been effected to simplify the routine.
Provisions for enforcement of the rationing orders are strengthened by new subsections, the board said, one of which prohibits the possession by anyone, without lawful authority, of detached coupons, books or cards other than those issued to him or other persons in his household.

E. and N. Train Leaves Earlier

Subject to approval by the Transport Board, a new E. and N. train schedule will become effective Sept. 27, Superintendent John A. Kennedy said today.
It is the present intention of the company to dispatch Train No. 1 from Victoria at 10.10 a.m. daily except Sundays, instead of 10.40 a.m., although the time may be slightly altered before the date set for the change if conditions warrant it prior to the issuance of the new timetable.
The new timetable is now being prepared and will have to be approved by the Federal Transport Board before it can be made effective.
Departure of No. 1 up-island train, half an hour earlier is planned to assure arrival of the train at points up the island on time. Arrival at Courtenay and Port Alberni under the proposal to lengthen out the schedule is expected to be somewhat later than at present, it was stated.
The E. and N. has been attempting to maintain the same schedule as that in effect before the war and this has become increasingly difficult and more recently impossible because of the tremendous increase in the volume of general business, particularly express. The change has been brought about by military necessity.
Uncertainty of various business factors in the situation has hitherto prevented changes in the schedule, but congested traffic and consequent delays finally

SAFeway Homemakers' Guide

★ 3 wonderful bunches for 3 wonderful lunches ★ New Safeway policy that saves you money ★ How one Dad got to a ball game

Clip this column and put it in your cookbook under "bunches for lunches"

It takes very little longer to prepare an interesting, well-balanced noon meal than it does to eat whatever the refrigerator happens to offer. Besides, you owe it to your family to make lunch as much a "Victory" meal as breakfast or dinner. Here are three menu ideas that were planned and tested by the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau.

LUNCHING ALONE

Grilled Open-face Chicken Sandwich on Whole Wheat—Stripped with Bacon Mixed Tomatoes with Favorite Dressing Baked Apple with Cream Oatmeal Cookies Milk or Tea

NOTE: It's well to be prepared for days when you chance to eat home alone. Cheese, bacon, and oatmeal cookies can easily be kept on-hand; tomatoes can be scalded and stored in the refrigerator ready to peel; and extra baked apples make good solitary desserts.

SCHOOL CHILDREN'S LUNCH
Vegetable-beef Soup in Large Soup Plates Whole Wheat Crackers Peach, Pear, and Cottage Cheese Salad Whole Wheat or Vitamin "B" Bread Butter Jam-filled Cup Cakes Milk

NOTE: With an hour or less for lunch, school children naturally want food to be ready the minute they get home and don't want to be bothered with complicated dishes. Soup, salad, and dessert meals like the one above are nutritious, quick to prepare, and easy to eat.

ME-MAN LUNCH

Roast Beef or Lamb Sandwich with Piping-hot Gravy (Use left-over roast; reheated gravy) Combination Vegetable Salad French Dressing Cup-Cake with Crushed Fruit Sauce Molasses Cookies Coffee or Milk

NOTE: Husbands who come home at noon want food that will stay with them till dinner. Plan hearty entrees like hot meat sandwiches, casseroles, and scalloped dishes, and be sure there's one of his favorite desserts.

Russia Rejects Jap 'Suggestions'

CHUNGKING (AP)—Reports circulated in foreign circles here today that Japanese Ambassador Naotake Sato had presented recent "suggestions" to Russia which the Soviet government found unacceptable, and that as a result a break into open conflict between the two nations was expected at any moment.

These reports did not specify what suggestions Japan was alleged to have made. They were said, however, to have been laid before the Russians since the resignation of Shigenori Togo as Japanese foreign minister last week.

An army spokesman said at a press conference that China had no new knowledge of Japanese troop movements outside of China, but reports reaching other quarters in this capital continued to describe a steady flow of Japanese into Manchukuo, across the border from Siberia.

TORONTO — If an election were held today, and no new issues introduced, the Liberal party would probably lead at the polls—but there would be many a surprise and many a jolt for many a politician.

These are the conclusions to be drawn from a nation-wide study by the Institute, (Gallup Poll of Canada) on the basis of this question:

"If a Dominion election were held today, would you prefer to see your riding elect a Conservative, Liberal, C.C.F., New Democracy (Social Credit), or other party candidate?"

Virtually the same question was asked by the Gallup Poll back in January of this year.
Thus some sort of a trend on the popularity of the various political parties is made possible by the actual returns in the 1940 general election, the Gallup survey in January of this year, and the latest Gallup survey.

the younger generations in the

did the older generation.

Flying Fortresses To Gain Mastery

10,000 Axis Planes Lost in 3 Years

NEW YORK (CP)—Since the beginning of the war, British forces have destroyed 10,000
Axis planes, against a loss of 6,500 British planes, Peter Mas-field, air correspondent of the Sunday Times of London, said in a BBC broadcast recorded by the listening post of the British Information Services, here.

Fewer than 100 planes were left in Britain, he said, after the British expeditionary force had first been sent to France, and all the R.A.F. could manage to send abroad at that time was 10 squadrons of light bombers and two squadrons of Hurricanes fighters.

"What a change since then," Masfield said. "Over Dieppe the other day more than 5,000 aircraft sorties were sent out, most of them fighters. Also, we put more than 1,000 bombers over Germany in one night on three occasions recently."

"Besides that, a great air force has been built up in the Middle East."

OTTAWA (CP)—The National Defence Department in its 23rd Canadian (Active) Army casualty list since the combined operations raid on Dieppe last month reported one man pre-

died of wounds, two seriously wounded and seven wounded.
The list of 13 names also included three non-Dieppe casualties—one man seriously ill and two reported as seriously injured (accidental).

The list brought the unofficial count of casualties reported which are believed attributable to the Battle of Dieppe to 917.
This total includes 382 dead, 594 wounded, 13 not diagnosed, 1 in hospital, 6 suffering from ex-jury, and 120 missing.

The count is subject to a margin of error because of repetition of names from previous lists.

Prime Minister and President

ALTHOUGH HE DEALT WITH MANY phases of the war as he spoke to the re-convened Parliament this afternoon for the first time since his memorable visit to Russia and Egypt, Mr. Churchill added an important and interesting postscript to the Dieppe raid, its outstanding success, and its strategic bearing on the expansion of the plans of the United Nations for offensive warfare. Canadians will be pardoned, too, if they note with more than ordinary satisfaction and pride that the men from the land of the Maple Leaf comprised five-sixths of the assaulting force.

Apart from his general summary—which included the assurance that the hunting of Nazi submarines had produced greater bags, in recent months, and that there is complete agreement between British, American and Russian leaders in matters of paramount war policy—the Prime Minister was encouragingly specific in his description of the situation as he found it in Egypt. Before he left England he had some reason to believe the condition of the desert army and the troops in that battle area was "not entirely satisfactory." Now that he has seen for himself, however, he told the House of Commons that it and the country as a whole could feel confident "in our ability to maintain a successful defence of Egypt, not for days or weeks, but for several months ahead."

In view of past disappointments, since General Wavell's army of the Nile pricked Mussolini's bubble of Italy's imperial expansion it was well that the Prime Minister employed the term "defence" instead of "offence" as it related to his hopes for the future of operations in the African desert. But his own conclusions lead to the supposition that offensive action is now high up on the agenda of the United Nations. This contention is supported by both his own and by Mr. Roosevelt's reference to the outstanding success which had attended the conferences in London last July between British and American military leaders. Decisions were reached then which the President told the world last night "are directed toward taking the offensive." What these decisions were the American public will know in due time—and so will our enemies.

With commendable caution, moreover, Mr. Churchill assured Parliament there was no reason to suppose that we have not the means of victory in our hands—"providing that the utmost in human power is done here and in the United States." And in order that a complete dovetailing of united effort might take the form of a new guarantee to the democratic coalition, as well as a stern warning to the Axis powers, Mr. Roosevelt appealed to Congress to grant him additional authority in respect of economic stabilization processes so that his country could get on with its offensive preparations.

Viewed from every aspect, therefore, the President's reference to the existence of many points at which the Axis could be attacked, and the Prime Minister's reminder to Hitler's Germany that the Wehrmacht has yet to gain its objective in Russia, are of official opinions which suggest that, although there may be more disappointments and setbacks in store for the United Nations, the fourth winter of war heralds nothing like so gloomy a prospect for liberty's cause as it does for the forces of darkness. And Mr. Churchill put a good deal of potent meaning into one sentence when he called the attention of the arch-criminal in Berlin to the fact that this "is the eighth of September."

'Fireside Chat' With a Sting

CANADA AND CANADIANS WILL watch with keen interest the deliberations of the United States Congress as it digests and acts upon Mr. Roosevelt's request for the authority to stabilize wages and farm products and profits. His latest "fireside chat" had more than the usual sting in it as it applied to his own country's economy and the ever-haunting menace of inflation. He was careful to assess the value of permitting the course of democratic procedure to be unhampered by dictatorial encroachments; but he set a time limit within which the elected representatives of the people may act as he considers they should act in the interests of the nation and in order that the American people can implement the administration's "offensive preparations." Unless the chief executive obtains what he wants through Congressional authority by Oct. 1, he proposes to go ahead on his own—leaving such apparent overriding of normal constitutional usage as may be required for disposition later on.

As long ago as last April Mr. Roosevelt outlined a seven-point program to check inflationary trends, and these were his recommendations: 1. Tax heavily, to keep personal and corporate profits low. 2. Fix ceilings on prices. 3. Stabilize salaries and wages. 4. Stabilize the prices paid farmers for their produce. 5. Divert individual income from spending to the purchase of war bonds. 6. Reduce all scarce commodities, both for equitable distribution and to prevent auction prices from being established. 7. Discourage credit and installment buying, encourage the payment of debts, mortgages and other obligations.

It will be noted that the foregoing leave out no important measure and include nothing which is not important. Nevertheless, developments in the meantime have unfolded altogether too rapidly for the mental comfort of those farseeing Americans who have been under no illusion about the dire prospects ahead of the country unless the brake be applied. Erecting a ceiling over some prices has been little more than a stop-gap; the inflationary dragon can be scotched only if the stabilization formula shall be applied with sufficient comprehensiveness to cover the whole economic structure. Salaries and wages have not been stabilized, and it has been frequently pointed out that the stabilization for farm prices was set so high that it constituted a goal rather than a ceiling; even Secretary of Agriculture Wickard now concedes that the 110-per-cent-of-parity scheme is fallacious. To be sure, our neighbor has popularized the sale of war bonds; but, we are told, many of them are going to the banks, where they create new credit—which, of course, contributes to the very inflation the President intends to halt. By the full application of his seven-point program, however, his objective should be nearer attainment.

Widening the Range

DROPPING BOMBS ON BUDAPEST AND Vienna may be of little value to the United Nations in its immediate intrinsic military sense. But when it sent its airmen on their visit to the Hungarian and Austrian capitals during the week-end the Russian high command obviously had another object in mind—a test of the psychological reaction from the peoples of two Axis-dominated capitals under fire for the first time in this global war. Not that either of these romantic and beautiful cities expected to escape attention; even a heavily-regimented press has found it necessary to publish some accounts of the growing expansion of the United Nations' air power. But it can be taken for granted that many in Hungary and Austria are alive to the possibilities of exploiting a natural resentment at further sufferings brought on by their forced association with the Axis powers. What form it could or may take, of course, remains highly conjectural.

The fact should be borne in mind, however, that not all Hungarian and Austrian soldiers with weapons in their possession have been sold body and soul to Hitler's concept of a new world order. Much of their so-called fighting allegiance to the "Heerenvolk" may be of a token character merely awaiting the right opportunity to throw off the sham. It would not be simple, but in collaboration with a populace threatened with an Allied Blitzkrieg from the air it would not take long to widen the fissure in the Axis Balkan armor. One of two Hungarian and Austrian regiments in an open challenge to the elite guards of the Gestapo might cause the men of Berlin a good deal of worry.

The day when opportunities for this species of revolt against the terroristic domination of Heinrich Himmler and his gang of superthugs may be nearer than visible surface conditions would seem to indicate. Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky, incidentally, intimated in London on Sunday that Russian and British airmen would soon be meeting over Europe. Promise and policy already have combined.

Nothing to 'Beef' About

WITHOUT ATTEMPTING TO INQUIRE into the whys and wherefores of the shortage of beef and the scarcity of beefsteaks for the dinner tables predicted for British Columbia for the remainder of this month—and somebody probably has gone astray in the ceilings applicable to steaks—"on the hoof" and on the butcher's block—let us not give ourselves away by sending wails up to high heaven because we may not get a choice cut every day of the week during September.

What have Canadians to grumble about in the matter of food, anyway? Have we paused to consider the average daily menu which every housewife in the British Isles is at her wits' end to vary? Do we, or shall we, have to go without any of the staple commodities which constitute our regular fare? It is scarcely likely. And what if we did have to get along with meat every other day, with eggs and cream, and dozens of other foods, half the days on which they make their appearance over here? Would that be anything more than the shadow of an imitation of the sparse allowance with which the millions of much-bombed Britain already regard as part of the price they are paying for the preservation of their liberty—part of the price for bare survival? It most assuredly would not.

To be sure, with our plentiful supplies it is our duty to insist that food distribution under our regulatory system shall be efficiently and economically carried out. But let us not hint at the word sacrifice should export requirements in vital commodities oblige our people to accommodate themselves accordingly. Relatively speaking, of course, we have sacrificed nothing so far. It might give us a sense of practical realism, teach us to mend some of our extravagant ways, if we could have the "pinch" applied to us.

A Californian wrote his will on a butcher's order book—or was it the price of a steak?

Does General Franco's cabinet shuffle presage a second front in the Iberian Peninsula? Strange things have happened in this war.

Under Hitler's Heel

TO ENGLAND BY BOAT

THE NAZI ISSUE new regulations every day for the control of the Norwegian coastwise traffic. In spite of this the fishing fleet of the country is constantly dwindling. Notwithstanding the very strict control exercised, more and more Norwegians are escaping to England. In order to put an end to this traffic the Nazi authorities have decreed, according to Stockholm Tidningen "that a special permit must be obtained by anybody intending to navigate a boat or ship, and that this permit is to be granted only to 'absolutely reliable' captains." Well, those who wanted to take their ships to England never asked for permission.

EQUAL RIGHTS

The Danish doctor, Knud Hagedorn of Herning, recently ordered a Nazi out of his consulting room. He demanded that the patient should take his swastika out of his buttonhole, otherwise he would not take on his case. When the patient protested, Dr. Hagedorn answered: "So long as free Danes are not allowed to wear the Union Jack in their buttonholes I shall treat no patient who wears the swastika."

DISTURBANCE OF PUBLIC ORDER

The burgomaster of Zaandam has published a warning in the Dagblad voor Noord Holland not to disturb public order. "When in the cinemas German texts appear on the screen disconcerted elements have on several occasions interrupted the performance by shouting remarks that are not permissible. Should such incidents occur, heavy penalties will be inflicted."

A PATRIOTIC DUTY

A Swiss who has spent a week in occupied France reports in the Zurich Weltwoche that nearly all the food he ate came from the black market. His hosts had declared that the black market was a patriotic duty. If the French did not support it even more food would be sent out of the country into Germany.

TEACHING TO LIE AND TO STEAL

"Le Petit Journal, Paris, writes: 'These hard times are driving our children to become liars and thieves. They begin by stealing their brothers' and sisters' bread. Then they become more ambitious and steal their parents' money, putting forward as an excuse that, after all, the money belongs to the family. By degrees they form gangs and steal food out of cellars or bicycles from the streets, in order to sell them or exchange them for something else.' Future Nazis!

SHOES OR BRANDY

A Frenchwoman bought a pair of shoes for her little son. The soles were cut from an old motor tire and fastened with straps. The second time the child wore the shoes they dropped to pieces. When the woman complained to the shopkeeper and pointed out that they had cost 149 francs ($3) the man replied: "What would you? A bottle of brandy costs twice as much."

A VICIOUS CIRCLE

The Belgian paper Echo de la Bourse discusses conditions in the mines of the country and is of opinion that the situation is constantly deteriorating. "The food shortage has considerably reduced the working capacity of the miners. Lack of raw materials slows down production. Wages and taxes, however, continue to rise while the sale price may not be increased."

SUBSTITUTE FOR SUBSTITUTE

The Italian Gazzetta del Popolo complains that even coffee substitute is no longer obtainable. The paper begs the authorities to see that the coffee substitute made of roasted pulses should not disappear completely from the market. "This disappearance is all the more annoying since a substitute for the coffee substitute is now to be had on the black market, and its price is as disgusting as its taste."

MASS MIGRATION

The Nazis have established a Ghetto at Lwow. According to the paper Goniec Krakowski, they began by turning 17,300 "Aryans" out of their houses because they needed the whole of that "Aryan quarter" for the establishment of their Ghetto. That is a national socialist way of encouraging the furniture moving trade.

ALBANIA IN REVOLT

Although the Nazis for reasons of their own afford their Italian friends every assistance in Albania they do not succeed in pacifying the country. The Swedish paper Ny Dag reports that there is no end to the disturbances, particularly in the Albanian oilfields. As a punishment the troops of occupation take away the whole of the people's harvest and leave them to starve.

WEEK-END AT HOME

According to Novo Vreme the German commandant at Belgrade has issued an order regulating traffic. The use of all motor boats, major cars and motor bicycles is forbidden during the week-end. This prohibition applies from 4 p.m. on Saturday till Monday morning. Even the use of bicycles is forbidden during the week-end. Disregard of this order makes the offender liable to confiscation of his vehicle and severe penalties. By making traffic difficult the Nazis hope to prevent the rebellious Jugoslavs from getting into touch with one another.

Parallel Thoughts

The tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity; so is the tongue among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature and it is set on fire of hell. James 3:6.
The tongue is the vile slave's vilest part. Juvenal.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"I know we haven't called on you for ages, but we take a walk every evening instead of driving and George said, 'Let's drop in on the Joneses—my feet are killing me!'"

Women Ruled Japs Once

Japan, where women are very decidedly "kept in their place" in modern times, was once ruled by women. The time was so near the dawn of history that definite written records are very scanty, but very early sources, part of them Chinese, tell of a great Queen Wo, who was succeeded by other female rulers, all of them marrying their own brothers and handing down the sceptre from mother to daughter.

This is among the little known facts about the origins of Japan revealed by Carl Whiting Bishop, Smithsonian Institution archaeologist.

So powerful was the influence of the Japanese queens, and so firm the tradition of female dominance, that early Chinese records refer to Japan as "the Queen Country." Subsequently, however, their power was weakened, and they were relegated to a religious position as high priestesses of the Sun Cult, while real power in the land was held by the founders of the line of the Mikados—who in their turn, centuries later, were likewise thrust aside by an ambitious oligarchy of aristocrats.

MEN WANTED—IN POLITICS

From Canadian Business

"We have reached a stage in the world's history where privilege is being attacked everywhere. Democracy can only resist the attack by making it clear by its action that responsibility goes hand in hand with privilege." This was the message which Mr. J. M. Macdonnell, carried to the boys of Appleby College in one of a series of lectures designed to inspire them to take a deeper and more personal interest in politics. His words are worthy of widespread dissemination.

There was a time when no one doubted that our free institutions—freedom of speech, of worship, of enterprise—were established for all time. Today, however, everything is being challenged. The only way we can maintain our freedom is to show some kind of devotion to our system to oppose that of the totalitarian states who regard truth, gentleness and honor as silly weaknesses. "In time of war," said Mr. Macdonnell, "no decent man can fail to see his duty. But in times of peace, few of us seem able to arouse in ourselves a sense of duty to the state." We have lots of government to go around, from Ottawa down to local council and school boards, and even in wartime these require sincere men.

1500 more IMPERIAL POLICIES to workers in offices

● Among the 8,000 new Imperial Life policyholders last year, more than 1,500 were office workers. They represented many age groups, many kinds of business and, of course, their insurance needs varied also.

Imperial Life wrote policies to match each individual age and need. Policies to guarantee income for dependents, to assure children of a good start in life, to pay off a mortgage, to provide independence in the later years of life—these were some of the reasons behind the purchases.

To these 1,500 office men and women who became policyowners, a new sense of security was provided for themselves and for their families. Their investment gave them peace of mind they could not have won by any other means.

To an increasingly large cross-section of the people of Canada, The Imperial Life is "my insurance company." Why not let Imperial Life program your future, too?

Russian Women Described At Club's Birthday Tea

An intimate picture of the Russian woman of today and her place in the economic structure and fighting machine of the Soviet Union was painted by Mrs. Lucia Squire Williams in her talk before the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club and a number of visiting club-women Sunday evening.

Mrs. Williams was the guest speaker at the 21st birthday tea held in the clubrooms, Union Building, as the final function in the celebration of the club's coming of age. Representatives of clubs in Washington State and on the British Columbia mainland were among the 60 present.

Mrs. Alice Langworthy, president of the Vancouver Club, on behalf of its members presented a handsome pottery vase filled with peach gladioli to Miss Edith Parsell, the new Victoria president, as a birthday gift to the club; Miss Helen Grier, on behalf of the New Westminster club, presented a set of attractive hardwood plates; and Miss Wilma Zimmerman, president of the Washington State Federation, voiced that group's greetings and good wishes. Greetings were also received from Miss Margaret Wherry, Canadian Federation president.

Mrs. Madge Hall, provincial vice-president of the Canadian Federation, acted as chairman and introduced Mrs. Williams. From her five years' residence in the Soviet Union and subsequent visits to that country, Mrs. Williams drew on a wealth of intimate knowledge to show that the woman of Russia shares equality of opportunity, equality of pay, equality of responsibility with the men. She is regarded primarily as a citizen, hence no discrimination is shown against her on account of her sex in the economic and political field.

The speaker told of the tremendous contribution made by the women to the Soviet war effort. Of all workers engaged in industry and agriculture, 45 per cent are women. Reference was made to the care tendered the working woman about to become a mother, this care including her release from work six weeks before the birth of the child though her wages are continued, while strictest medical supervision is given to the expectant mother and to her and the child following its birth.

The guerrilla women fighters of the Soviet were the greatest surprise to Hitler, Mrs. Williams averred, and she paid tribute to their heroism. At the close of her address, the speaker answered a number of questions. Miss Marie Vowles delighted the gathering with violin solos, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Francis. Supper was served, past

Local Airwomen Overseas

L.A.W. S. L. Jackson of Winnipeg, Cpl. J. M. Tallyour of Aurora, Ont., L.A.W. M. F. Scott of Saskatoon and L.A.W. Kythe Mackenzie of Cowichan Bay, V.I., all airwomen from the Western Air Command, were included in the first contingent of the R.C.A.F. (women's division) to arrive overseas, announcement of which was made this week. The picture was taken at the C.P.R. wharf here on the day of their departure. The fifth member of the group was Cpl. A. B. Evans of Edmonton. The five girls were employed as clerks at Belmont House, and in England they will take a special course in their particular work, returning to Canada later. Prior to enlisting L.A.W. Mackenzie worked in a civilian capacity at Western Air Command. She is the daughter of Mrs. C. R. Mackenzie of Cowichan Bay.

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Haycroft and family, who spent the long week-end up the island, have returned to their home on Oliver Street.

Mrs. Clarke, "The Terraces," Langford Lake, spent the long week-end in Vancouver, where she was joined by her daughter, Mickey, from Seattle.

Mrs. J. H. Mitchell of West Vancouver has been spending the past week with her aunt, Mrs. E. J. Ridout, 414 Government Street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Heatley of Victoria spent the holiday week-end in Vancouver as guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. McLeod of Vancouver Heights.

Mr. Paul Muni, the movie star who has been featured in the film, "The Commandos Come at Dawn," left Monday afternoon on his return to Hollywood. Little Ann Carter, the child star in the Lester Cowan production which has been made here, left on Sunday for the California city.

Dr. E. W. Hetherington and his son, Bob, have returned to their home in the Uplands after a holiday spent at Banff and in Great Falls, Montana. Mrs. Hetherington, who accompanied them, is remaining for a longer stay with her sister, Mrs. Roscoe Kernan, in Great Falls.

Mrs. Roger Montelith has returned home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Guy Rothwell in Vancouver. She was accompanied by the mainland by her daughter, Mrs. F. E. Beckett, who has now continued to Montreal to join Capt. Beckett, who is with the Bomber Ferry Command.

Miss C. Margaret Smedley, R.N., and Miss Etta Jones, R.N., who have spent two months at their respective homes in Victoria and Langford, left Saturday for Vancouver, Wash., where they will be on the staff of Clark's General Hospital.

Mrs. Kenneth B. Hincks arrived on Sunday from Megantic, Que., to spend a month on the island, and is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart Clark, Athlone Apartments. Her husband, Cpl. K. B. Hincks, R.C.A.F., is expected here later in the month.

Miss Gwen Cox, who left for Toronto Sunday, was the recipient on Friday, at the home of her parents, 1131 Burdett Avenue, of a delightful surprise party. The evening was spent in singing and parlor games. There were about 25 self-invited guests and at the end of the evening a presentation was made by Mrs. Cameron Murray on behalf of the members of the Women's Ambulance Corps, of which Miss Cox was a valued member. The evening finished with the singing of "She's a Jolly Good Fellow," and "Auld Lang Syne."

In honor of Miss Ellen Dorman, a bride-elect of the month, Mrs. G. Bone and her mother, Mrs. J. Little, entertained a number of friends at tea on Thursday afternoon in Spencer's tearoom. Mrs. A. Dorman and Mrs. J. Little presided at the tea table, centred with a bowl of pastel-shaded summer flowers. Miss Dorman was presented with a corsage bouquet of tiny pink rosebuds and violets, also a daintily-wrapped parcel containing many pieces of pyrex ware. Other guests present were: Mrs. J. Norrington, Mrs. A. E. Bayliss, Mrs. G. Rice, Mrs. L. Fraser, Mrs. M. Speller, Miss Ruth Baker, Miss Lila Cowan, Miss Lorene Casson and Mrs. Wynne Saunders.

Sorority Members Busy on War Work

Miss Wilma Zimmerman, director of Tacoma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, who came over from Washington to attend the Business and Professional Women's Club birthday celebration, was the guest of honor when girls of the local chapter of the sorority entertained at a reg in Spencer's tea room Saturday afternoon. The guest of honor was presented with a corsage bouquet of rosebuds. Others present were Mrs. T. Hammond, director of the local chapter; Mrs. Fred Rough, president; Miss Barbara Dawson, social convener, and the Misses Violet Poyser, Muriel Knight, Joyce Goggin, Winnifred Elliott, Frances Paget, Helen Porter and Joan Charlebois.

The first meeting for the fall session of Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, was held at the home of the director, Mrs. T. Hammond, 2717 Avebury Avenue, with Mrs. F. Rough, president, in the chair. Letters of interest were read, including those from four Sorority Sisters, Miss Elsie Peters, Miss Maquinn Daniels and Miss Joyce Dickson, now serving in the (W.D.) R.C.A.F., and Miss Dolma McKinnon, now with the British Embassy, Washington, D.C.

The chapter decided to again assist in the door-to-door War Savings Drive and individual members were also requested to serve in the Miss Canada sale of War Certificates. In concluding her report the director stated that she had now reached her 200 hours of service for extra war work. Her time has been chiefly gained by truck driving for the Salvage Corps. She urged other members to assist in the salvage work and expressed the hope that all would have their 200-hour service badges by December.

Knitted squares for the Red Cross were turned in and Miss Muriel Knight, service convener, requested that each member continue with this project. Miss Joyce Goggin, contest secretary, announced that entries for the Christmas short story and poem contests should be mailed to International by Oct. 15. Vice-president Miss Helen Porter reported that she had interviewed several prospective members, and Miss Muriel Knight and Miss Violet Poyser were chosen to assist Miss Porter with arrangements for the October "rushing" for new members. Miss Joyce Finch in her treasurer's report stated that the sum of $25 had been set aside for the emergency war fund for sorority chapters that may need assistance in the bombed-out areas.

Miss Barbara Dawson, social convener, reported, and the remainder of the meeting was taken over by Mrs. Hammond, who conducted the first of the year's topics on "Beauty," her program being "The Body Beautiful."

The W.A. to the Canadian Scottish Regiment will hold its monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon at Government House at 2.30.

Miss Marjorie McConnell, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid in a rose-wood pink crepe dress with Peter Pan collar and pleated skirt. Her bouquet was of yellow roses and gladioli with deep blue larkspur. Mr. Jack Phillips was best man.

A small reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, where the rooms were effectively decorated with Baghdad gladioli and goldenrod. Mothers of the young couple assisted in receiving the guests. Mrs. Beaven wearing an Air Force blue redingote with a navy hat and accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations and sweet peas. Mrs. McConnell wore a figured brown silk two-piece dress, and a corsage bouquet of pale pink rosebuds. A hand-worked lace cloth made by Mrs. E. Steltz, grandmother of the groom, covered the supper table, which was decorated in pink and white and centred by the three-tier wedding cake.

For a honeymoon to be spent on the mainland and up-island, the bride donned a fawn-colored fitted coat over her wedding outfit, and wore a corsage bouquet of yellow rosebuds. Mr. and Mrs. McConnell will make their home at 3333 Glasgow Avenue, Saanich.

M.P.B. Squadrons Stage Mobilization Manoeuvres

300 Coast Craft Reviewed In Test Operation

By KENNETH DRURY

MONTAGUE HARBOR, Galliano Island—In this hill-ringed, land-locked basin, half-way between Victoria and Vancouver, 300 units of the British Columbia coastal Power Board Squadrons were based during their Labor Day week-end mobilization manoeuvres.

It was the first large scale test operation bringing into the coastal defence organization the medium-sized and smaller craft, pleasure and semi-commercial, to be found in the waters between Vancouver Island and the mainland.

Half the number of boats on the manoeuvres came from Vancouver and the lower mainland; the other half came from Victoria, Canoe Cove, Maple and Cowichan Bays and Nanaimo.

The fleet has been mobilized under Harold Husband, regional representative of the transit controller of Canada, for aid in movement of troops, and in other defensive operations, in conjunction with the navy, army and air force.

In the parade past, down the channel from Montague Harbor, the fleet was reviewed and the salute taken by Brigadier-General Murdoch, Commander Saulsby, Squadron Leader Sehl, R. W. Mayhew, M.P., and Mr. Husband standing at attention on the fore-deck of the "flagship" Hoaloah.

Leading the fleet parade, which took 1 hour and 25 minutes to pass with the boats often two, three and four abreast, was Dr. Samson, chairman of the mainland division of the B.C. Power Boat Squadron, standing at the bow of his own cabin cruiser, Tequila. R. Halls of the Maple Bay Yacht Club and chairman of the executive committee of the Vancouver Island division, B.C. P.B.S., commanded the Island units.

SERVICEABLE FLEET

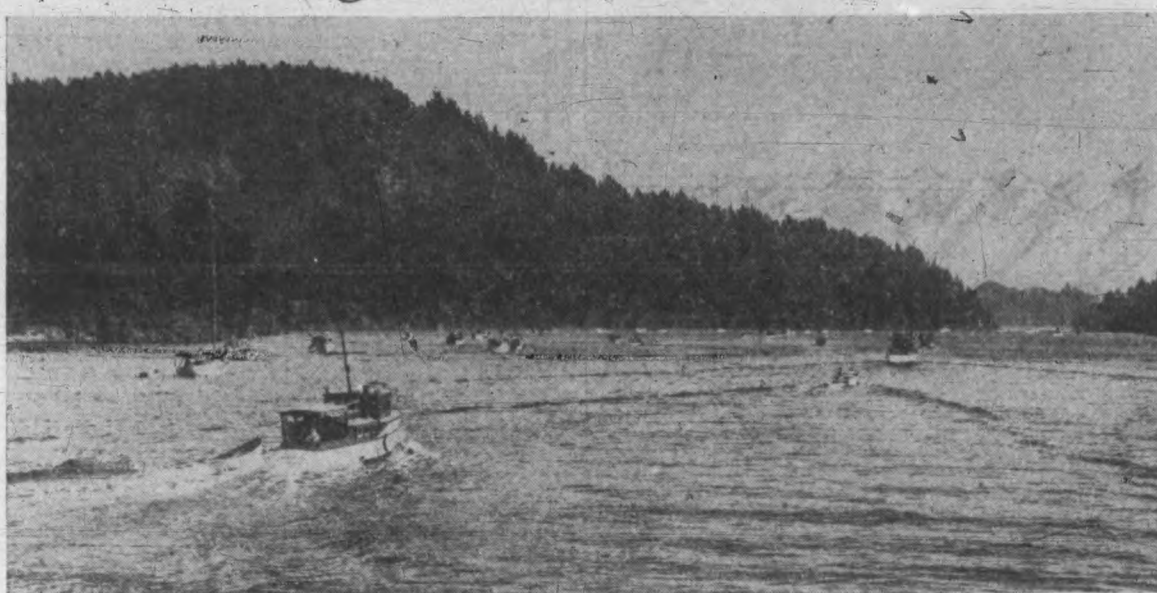

"You should be proud of your success in mobilizing such a serviceable fleet," said Brigadier Murdoch in congratulating Mr. Husband at the conclusion of the review. "It is a revelation to me of the enormous amount of work that you and your associates have put into this organization. The results should make you very proud of the job."

The Brigadier stressed the value to the naval and military authorities of having such an auxiliary fleet at their disposal at this time.

Commander Saulsby, Squadron Leader Sehl and Mr. Mayhew spoke similarly and added that the demonstration was a revelation as to the size of the fleet and its manpower capacity.

The boats began to move out for the manoeuvres from their home ports Friday afternoon and most of them returned home Monday evening. Only seaworthy craft were included in the operations, those incapable of crossing the Gulf of Georgia or some of the other stretches of water were eliminated.

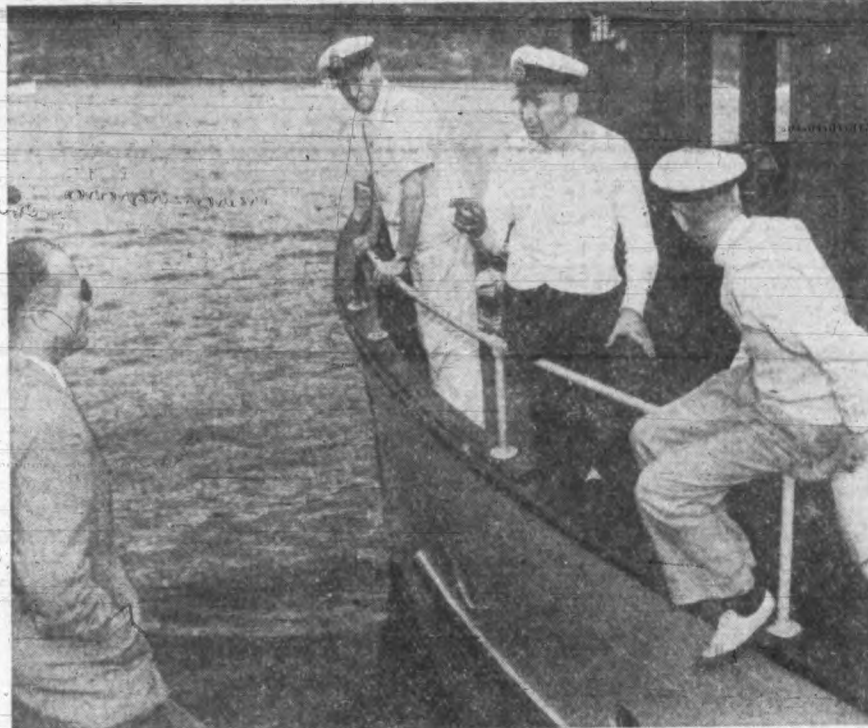

Man has learned to fly higher, faster, straighter, and farther than birds, and he is able to fly across country in weather that limits birds to short, local flights.

Two, three and four abreast, the units of the fleet move down the Channel in review. It took them one hour and 25 minutes to pass.

The official party and the leaders of the Mainland and Island squadrons on the deck of the flagship Hoaloah; front row, left to right, Sqdn. Ldr. Sehl, Cmdr. Saulsby, Dr. Samson of Vancouver, commander of the Mainland units; R. Halls of Victoria, commander of the Victoria and Island units; Brig. Gen. Murdoch; back row, Reg. Richards of Vancouver, Harold Husband, R. W. Mayhew M.P.

Boats of the Mainland and Island commanders at anchor with auxiliaries, while commanders discuss manoeuvre plans. Cameramen recorded all angles of the operations.

London Fire Chief Nominates Women As Firefighters

SPOKANE (AP) — Drawing on experience of all the great air raids on London, A. E. Baker, divisional chief of the National Fire Service of England, nominated women today for another heretofore purely masculine activity—fire fighting.

"Women are good fire fighters," he asserted with conviction. "I take off my hat to them."

Of the 35,000 fire fighters in London, 7,500 are women now, he said.

"In the air raids the women were in the thick of it, just like the men," he said. "A number of them have been decorated for their fine work."

"When women were put in fire brigades in 1938, I was skeptical. I said they would be of no assistance. I thought they would faint and swoon."

STUCK TO THEIR JOBS

"I was wrong. Even women with inside jobs stuck when the bombs began to fall. I have seen them stick to their jobs when even the buildings were crumbling under them."

"I have seen a woman drive a 500-gallon petrol (gas) truck through a street blazing with flames so that pumps could keep working."

Baker, 22 years on the London Fire Department, was made a divisional chief, when all fire fighting services in England were nationalized.

He came to Spokane to attend

L.A.C. Lewis A. Keen, R.C.A.F., and his bride, the former Georgette Lennart, whose marriage took place recently at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay.

Salmonbellies Deadlock Boxla

VANCOUVER (CP) — New Westminster Salmonbellies staged a four-goal drive in a final hectic quarter Monday night to defeat Vancouver Norvans 11 to 7 and tie up the best of seven games intercity box lacrosse series at one game each.

Norvans won the first game of the series, 13 to 11, in overtime last Friday. Next game will be played tomorrow at New Westminster.

The Bellies had a 6 to 3 lead at the half, but Norvans cut the edge to a single goal in the third period, outscoring the New Westminster club 3 to 1. But they failed to match the Fishmen's final period drive, being outscored 4 to 1.

Temper ran high from the third quarter on and the feeling was climaxed by a fistic clash in the final quarter between Erick Dickinson of Norvans and Allan Askew of Salmonbellies.

Harry Carter was leading scorer for the Fishmen with four goals, and Jimmy Douglas had three and Ed Downie two. Johnny Douglas led Norvans scorers with two goals.

Scar Leg Captures Longacres Feature

SEATTLE (AP) — A record-breaking horse racing season ended at Longacres Monday as Scar Leg, a Washington-bred favorite, rang down the curtain with spectacular triumph in the $1205 Labor Day handicap.

Scar Leg, owned and trained by Elbert T. Thomas of Dayton, Wash., clipped one-fifth second off the track record for one mile and a sixteenth, set in 1936 by Primulus. The time was 1:42 2-5. Lynn Josephson, the top Longacres jockey of the season, was up.

Chatman was second, four lengths back, with Palmera T. third.

The mutuels paid $11.70, $7.50 and $4.80 on Scar Leg; $22.50 and $7.80 on Chatman and $6.50 on Palmera T.

Pictor, Devil Diver In Track Victories

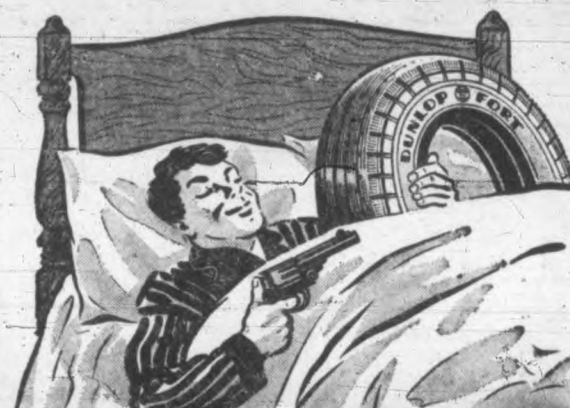

NEW YORK (AP) — The Maryland stretch runner, Pictor, won the Aqueduct handicap Monday before the greatest crowd ever to jam Aqueduct, but his blazing finish was all but overshadowed by the thunderous comeback of last spring's hard-luck derby favorite, Devil Diver.

With 40,224 customers looking on, Mrs. Payne Whitney's husky flier smashed the track record for 5 1/2 furlongs in taking the secondary feature of the card.

Under Eddie Arcaro's handling, the big-quartered colt hit the wire in the lightning time of 1:05 flat as he finished half a length in front of Mrs. Ethel Mars' Dogpatch and another nose in front of Mrs. C. Phillips' Vain Prince.

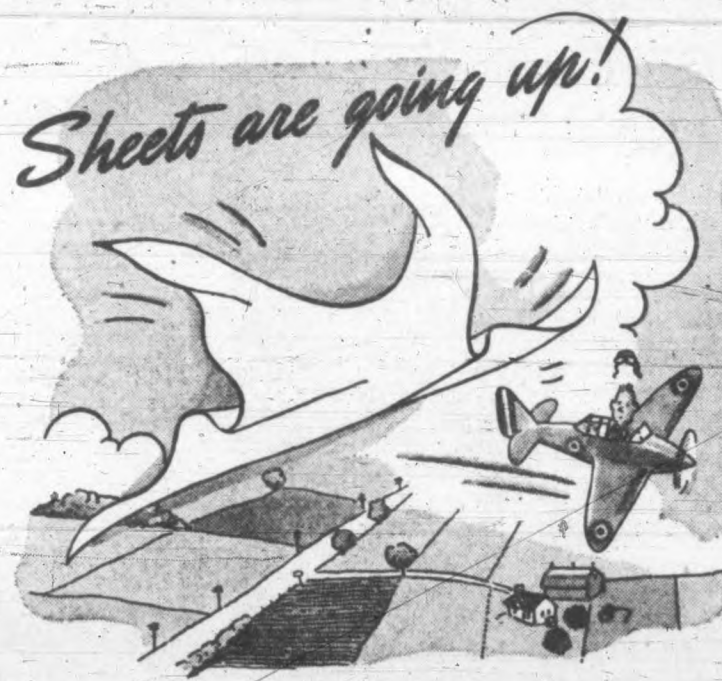

Vancouver Aerle No. 2075, was welcomed. A whistle drive will be held at the Eagles' Home after the next meeting, Tuesday, Sept. 15; meeting at 8 o'clock, cards at 9.

U-boat Sighted...Action Stations! He Got Away...What a Letdown!

By LIEUT. A. O. TATE,
R.C.N.V.R.

Only the sound asleep fail to respond when the destroyer rolls sharply with a hard-over turn to port and quivering, quickening step-up in speed.

"Good God. What's coming off up there?" a stoker petty officer asks no one in particular.

Seventy feet above the increasing turbulence of the sea is an 18-year-old from a factory town. He leans against the side of the crow's nest as the ship rolls, relaxing with the graceful downward arc of the foremast. Spread out below him are the columns of merchantmen of many nations carrying priceless cargoes to Britain.

In wardroom and messdecks, in engine room and boiler room, the buzzers strike like a high-voltage shock... loud, harsh, demanding and commanding.

ACTION STATIONS!
A U-boat has been sighted by a merchantman.

Below in the engine room, the perspiring men hear the rushing clatter of feet on the iron deck, and faintly, the shouts of their upper deck mates.

BEATS DEMAND ACTION

The imperative jangle of the engine room telegraph bells, relaying orders from the bridge, is telling these men a meaningless story of excitement and action.

"Will ahead!"
"Copy both!"
"Will astern!"
"Self ahead!"

From his post high against the foremast, the crow's nest lookout can see his ship is headed for a gap between two merchant ships—steaming swiftly for the centre of the convoy columns, pressing close across the bow of a big merchantman.

Two seconds later, this young star's eyes pop as he sees each of the ships turn sharply to starboard—an emergency turn! Logical answer: a submarine. Intently he begins to scrutinize the sea between the ships and beyond. Oh, for a glimpse, just a quick one, of a Jerry submarine. He glances to the bridge below him.

"What's he saying?" the captain is asking a signalman who is reading a message being flashed by one of the merchantmen.

"U-boat...sighted...off...port...quarter..."

The destroyer captain does not remove his eyes from the scene ahead of him as the message is read. Weaving and dodging, the Canadian destroyer threads her way through the maze of moving ships.

It is apparent, as the elements summon their furious strength to lash the mighty Atlantic, that a U-boat is maneuvering to make a quick attack on the convoy.

EVERYBODY LOVES THE SHIP'S MASCOT—Every fighting ship of Canada's ever-expanding navy, seems to have a mascot of some kind. Many have dogs whose pedigree has long been forgotten like the pooch above. Subjected to all sorts of kind-hearted rough and tumble treatment from the crew, they very often will never leave the ship when in port.

fore the mounting seas complicate his game.

"I'd like to be at a gun or working at the depth charges," thinks the lad in the crow's nest as he searches the sea for signs of a U-boat. "I could eat an ox," he says aloud.

COOK WORRIES ABOUT ROAST

Far beneath him, in an ammunition magazine below the sea-men's mess, one of the ship's cooks is wondering about some roasts of beef he had to leave at the mercy of a hot oven. As he passes up projectiles, at his job as one of an ammunition supply party, he is considering the idea: "I'll be popular with the troops at dinner time if that meat is ruined. Damn these Germans."

John Affleck Dies

TRAIL (CP)—John Knox Affleck, 29, died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd C. Affleck of nearby Beaver Falls, Saturday after a lengthy illness.

Born in Vancouver, he was educated in Nelson and had finished his third year in the University of British Columbia when he became ill. He received the U.B.C. sports block and was fullback on the U.B.C. senior football team in 1938-39.

Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. A. A. John and Margaret, in Pioneer, B.C., and a brother, Boyd Jr., at Beaver Falls.

Free Grease Paint For Young Actors

Free make-up material, available to the first affiliated drama clubs to write to the B.C. School Drama Guild, was mentioned in the bulletin published by that Guild and issued by Major W. H. Bullock-Webster recently. Tins of theatrical face powder, some bottles of wet white, some dry rouge, some thick sticks of Stein's grease paint and liners may be procured in limited quantities. The colors may not be just what the young actors want, as this is a broken line of stock, but there are many useful shades available. Club secretaries are asked to acknowledge receipt of grease paints.

Meeting at Government House Friday, representatives of the armed services and the producers of the motion picture, "The Commandos Come at Dawn," made plans for a premiere showing of the film in Victoria about Nov. 1, co-incident with premieres at Ottawa, London, England, and Washington, D.C. Proceeds of the premiere here will go to the auxiliaries of the armed services which co-operated in the making of the film.

Safe at Home

VANCOUVER (CP)—Harry Alexander, 17, and his 16-year-old bride were safe at home today, putting a definite end to fears they might have drowned while swimming from a Vancouver beach last week. The couple, some of whose clothing was found on the beach, eloped to Victoria, where they were married Thursday. They returned here at the week-end.

Since little ammonia is found in unpolluted water, amounts greater than two parts per 1,000,000 usually indicate a definite organic pollution.

Remembers Malahat As Horse Trail

Retiring from the business which he started with a single tally-ho coach and eight horses, the same that can be seen on the streets of Victoria today—and eventually built up to include a fleet of 20 Packards, Angus "Winipeg" Chilton, general superintendent of the Gray Line Sightseeing Company since 1919, plans to continue an active life on the island.

Picturing Victoria when he first arrived here as a small busy town chiefly populated with loggers, miners and some 30,000 Indians, Mr. Chilton recalls the narrow horse trail from here to Nanaimo which was later to become the Malahat. All boats coming into the harbor were, of course, sailing boats. Where the Parliament Buildings and the Empress Hotel stand today mud and water and bush were all that met the eye. When the government gave settlers land, water and light free, a little community was established. This brought an influx of business, and Victoria's roots were planted. At this time "Winipeg" had a restaurant on View Street which was known as the Venice Cafe, where a full orchestra played every evening.

Mr. Chilton went through the four years of the last war, and was twice wounded. He said his three brothers, one of whom was a general, one a captain, and the third a lieutenant, were killed in France. Back in civilian life he joined the Gray Line and became managing director and superintendent ever since.

"The business started with very little," Mr. Chilton stated, "but we now handle $70,000 worth of business annually."

An extensive traveler, he has visited Australia, Honolulu, Japan, Finland, Italy and the U.S., often in connection with travel publicity work, and he hopes to make a detailed tour of the war zones, especially Russia, after the war.

Unions Confer Here

Labor Check Sought On Manpower Officer

Appointment of a labor representative to each employment office, with powers equal to those of the selective service officer, was urged by delegates from 50 trades unions from all parts of B.C. in conference here Sunday and Monday.

The gathering was held under the auspices of the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Such appointments were necessary, delegates felt, since the National Selective Service Act gives sweeping powers to the local employment officer and creates a condition which might lead to favoritism and discrimination.

The conference, attended by approximately 80 delegates from A.F. of L., C.C.L. and Canadian Federation of Labor unions as well as independent groups, suggested wide revision of the Workmen's Compensation Act. Among amendments proposed were coverage of all occupations, abolition of the three-day waiting period and payment of workmen from the time of the accident. The conference further asked for appointment on boards of labor representatives selected by labor organizations, for a broader interpretation to injured workmen. It would also bring in common-law dependents on the same basis as legitimate dependents, and would boost the payments to next of kin in the event of fatality. It further sought inclusion of chiropractors in approved doctors.

A resolution calling for an eight-hour day and 48-hour week with a rate of pay of 75 cents an hour for truck drivers.

URGE DISPUTE ACT CHANGE

Amendment of the B.C. Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act to force employers to bargain collectively with officers or agents of a union having a majority of 51 per cent of employees, regardless of the date of formation, was urged.

A call for greater unity in the ranks of labor, without regard to affiliation was sounded to promote a greater war effort. The conference also emphasized the need for labor's co-operation in forwarding ideas for post-war rehabilitation, and urged unions to lay plans before the provincial rehabilitation committee.

Unanimous support was given Vancouver Island coal miners in their fight for better living and working conditions. Their position was indicated by a Cumberland U.M.W.A. delegate who noted the recent short strike had caused appointment of a commission to investigate conditions arising from freezing of miners' wages a week after war was declared.

If introduction of women into industry raised costs of production, those costs should be absorbed by industry, not taken from the workers' pay, the conference decided. Women, it held, should receive equal pay for equal work.

Revision of price ceiling legislation to place agricultural workers on a parity with others was advocated.

SUPPORT UNIFORM BONUS

In another resolution the conference urged municipal employees secure a cost of living bonus on the scale set forth in the order-in-council for other workers, and asked that provincial civil servants be given the same as federal.

Opposition was voiced to a section of the Unemployment Insurance Act which, delegates felt, injured labor by depriving those participating in a labor dispute from enjoying the benefits of the plan.

Immediate release of all interned anti-Fascists was urged as was relaxation of bans on anti-Fascists and working class organizations and publications. The conference called on the Dominion government to lend its support to the Churchill-Roosevelt-Molotov move for a second front, and asked that labor's part in that action be facilitated through representation on war commissions, boards and similar bodies.

Informed of health insurance schemes operating in various groups, the conference appointed a committee of five to prepare a brief aimed at introducing that form of insurance for the whole province.

Application of clauses in the legislation under which the National War Labor Board operates to raise wages in instances where present pay prohibits a decent standard of living was advocated in another resolution.

WANT PENSION RAISED

Increases in the old age pension above the $25 now granted and reduction in the age limit to 60 were urged and a minimum wage of $15 a week was requested for retail clerks in other moves.

The conference endorsed Victoria's moves to have crash helmets obligatory equipment for shipyard workers, and to raise the pay for Canadian soldiers to $50 a month.

A continuing committee was set up under the chairmanship of C. Peck, Victoria, and the conference instructed its secretary to seek an interview with George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, and Dr. J. J. Gillis, chairman of the House committee on labor, to discuss matters considered by the conference.

George A. Wilkinson, secretary of the conference, thanked delegates for giving up their holiday, to attend, and extended a vote of appreciation to E. E. Winch, M.L.A., for his suggestions at the meeting.

A. B. Greenwell, president of the Island Labor Council, was chairman of the conference.

Because certain streptococci are normally present in the saliva at a concentration of at least 10,000,000 per cubic centimeter, the conference decided. Women, it held, should receive equal pay for equal work.

Farm Price Control By Oct. 1

'Preparations Made to Strike Nazis in Europe'-Roosevelt

By J. F. SANDERSON

WASHINGTON (CP)—Preparations are being made in Washington and London for offensive action against the Germans in Europe, President Roosevelt has informed the people of the United States.

"There are at least a dozen different points at which attacks can be launched," President declared in a broadcast Monday night.

"You, of course, do not expect me to give details of future plans, but you can rest assured that preparations are being made here and in Britain toward this purpose. The power of Germany must be broken on the battlefields of Europe."

"Certain vital decisions have been made toward taking the offensive."

The President carried his battle for stabilization of living costs to the people in his broadcast addresses, in which he declared immediate action is necessary to avoid "a serious domestic economic crisis," and that "if we wait for two or three or four or six months it may be too late."

Asks Congress Act Before October

During the day he had sent a message to Congress demanding legislation by Oct. 1 to bring farm prices under control. Unless Congress acts by that date, he will act himself. He firmly reiterated this statement of his intentions in the address. With farm prices stabilized, he himself would act to stabilize wages, he promised.

The President made the announcement that an offensive in Europe is planned, while giving thumbnail reviews of the four main battle theatres of the global contest. He predicted that Russia will hold out, in spite of any setbacks, "and with the help of her Allies will ultimately drive every Nazi from her soil."

He was "hopeful of the outcome" in the Middle East. And in the Pacific area, Japan's main offensive was stopped by the naval air victory at Midway Island, but it may be expected to be renewed anytime.

He declared none of the four main battle regions would be neglected.

More Troops Sent Than in Great War

In the nine months since the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, the United States, despite greater danger and fewer ships, has transported overseas three times as many men as in the comparable period of the First Great War. (By implication that meant at least 528,000 U.S. soldiers have been sent abroad.)

"And every week sees a gain in the actual number of American men and weapons in the fighting areas," he said. "These reinforcements in men and munitions will continue to go forward, operating in unison against our enemies."

Paragraph by paragraph he reviewed the war on each front. Russia: Hitler is still unable to gain the "smashing victory" which almost a year ago he announced he had already been achieved. Important Russian territory has been captured, but Hitler has not been able to destroy the Red Army. The Russians are "killing more Nazis and destroying more airplanes and tanks than are being smashed on any other front."

The German army must spend another "cruel and bitter winter" on the Russian front. "In spite of any setbacks, Russia will hold out, and with the help of her Allies will ultimately drive every Nazi from her soil."

The Pacific area: One major Japanese offensive has been stopped, but the enemy still possesses great strength, seeks to retain the initiative, and will strike hard again. Victories in the Solomon Islands, which were "local operations," should not be overrated. But neither should the victory at Midway be underrated, for "there we stopped the major Japanese offensive."

Mediterranean and Middle East: A "desperate" battle has been joined in Egypt, for control of the area and the domination of the Mediterranean and Indian oceans. "We are well aware of our danger, but we are hopeful of the outcome."

Says U.S. People Must Do More

Bluntly, Mr. Roosevelt told the American people that "we are not doing enough" toward winning the war. The economic situation, with its inflationary dangers was proof enough of that, he thought. He described his message to Congress and repeated his demand that present obstacles to controlling farm prices be removed. Present law forbids farm price ceilings at less than 110 per cent of parity, he contended. Parity, he explained, "means that the farmer and the city worker are on the same relative ratio with each other in purchasing power as they were during a period some 30 years ago—at a time when the farmer had a satisfactory purchasing power."

As in his message to Congress, he urged that farm price ceilings be fixed at parity, or the price level of some recent year, whichever is higher. He proposed, too, a floor for farm prices which would prevent a disastrous post-war drop in these quotations.

Of the present restrictions, he had this to say:

"This act of favoritism for one particular group in the community increased the cost of food to everybody—not only to the workers in the city or in the munitions plants, and their families, but also to the families of the farmers themselves."

Wages in certain key industries, he said, had been stabilized "on the basis of the present cost of living." He added:

"It is obvious, however, that if the cost of food continues to go up, as it is doing at present, the wage earner, particularly in the lower brackets, will have a right to an increase in his wages. That would be essential justice and a practical necessity."

Repeatedly, Mr. Roosevelt stressed in both message and speech that control of the inflationary threat can be obtained only by control of all the factors influencing it. Wages and farm prices remained to be stabilized. Time after time he linked the interdependence of the two factors.

Cost of Living Can Be Controlled

"Our experience with the control of other prices during the past few months has brought out one important fact—the rising cost of living can be controlled, providing all elements making up the cost of living are controlled at the same time," he said.

"We know now that parity prices for farm products now controlled will not put up the cost of living more than a very small amount; but that if we must go up to an average of 116 per cent of parity for food and farm products—which is necessary at present under the emergency price control act before we can control all farm products—the cost of living will get well out of hand. We are face to face with this danger today. Let us meet it and remove it."

"I realize that it must seem out of proportion to you to be worrying about these economic problems. A time like this when we are all deeply concerned about the news from far distant fields of battle. But I give you the solemn assurance that failure to solve this problem at home—and to solve it now—will make more difficult the winning of this war."

"If the vicious economic spiral ever gets under way, the whole economic system will stagger. Prices and wages will go up so rapidly that the entire production program will be endangered. The cost of the war, paid by taxpayers, will jump beyond all present calculations."

"It will mean an uncontrollable rise in prices and in wages which can result in raising the overall cost of living as high as another 20 per cent. That would mean that the purchasing power of every dollar you have in your pay envelope, or in the bank, or included in your insurance policy or your pension would be reduced to about 80 cents. I need not tell you that this would have a demoralizing effect on our people, soldiers and civilians alike."

"Over-all stabilization of prices, salaries, wages and profits is necessary to the continued increasing production of planes and tanks and ships and guns."

High Tribute Paid To Navy Lieutenant

President Roosevelt singled out one hero for special acclaim. He was Lieut. John James Powers of the U.S. navy, missing in action on the third day of the Battle of the Coral Sea. In the first two days of that battle, Mr. Roosevelt said, Powers, flying a dive bomber in the face of "blasting enemy aircraft fire, demolished one enemy gunboat, put another out of commission, severely damaged an aircraft tender and a 20,000-ton transport, and scored a direct hit on an aircraft carrier which burst into flames and sank soon after."

Before starting out the next day, Powers said to the fliers of his squadron:

"Remember, the folks back home are counting on us. I am going to get a hit if I have to lay it right on their flight deck."

Powers subsequently dived almost to the deck of an enemy aircraft carrier, and "did not release his bomb until sure of a direct hit." When last seen, he was trying to recover from his dive at an altitude of 200 feet.

"His plane was destroyed by the explosion of his own bomb," Mr. Roosevelt said, "but he had made good his promise to stay on the flight deck."

"I have just received a recommendation from the Secretary of the Navy that Lieut. James Powers of New York City, missing in action, be awarded the Medal of Honor. I hereby and now make this award."

Mr. Roosevelt went on to say that:

"You and I are 'the folks back home' for whose protection Lieut. Powers fought and repeatedly risked his life." He said that he counted on him and his men. We did not count in vain. But have not those men a right to be counting on us? How are we playing our part 'back home' in winning this war?

"The answer is that we are not doing enough."

Canada Affected Vitrally By Move

The effort of President Roosevelt to arrest inflationary trends in the United States is of particular interest to Canada because Canadian government spokesmen, including Donald Gordon, chairman of the War-time Prices and Trade Board, have said that Canada's price control machinery would collapse if American living costs got out of control.

It also was apparent from the message to Congress that President Roosevelt intends to press for taxes on something like the scale Canada imposed in the last budget to draw off surplus purchasing power before it is reflected in the price structure. At the present time American taxes, particularly income taxes, are on a considerably lighter scale than in Canada, and Congress has shown no great readiness, perhaps because of the congressional elections in November, to fall in with the President's wishes.

T. B. NICHOL, who will shortly be promoted on the strength of his graduation, joined the R.C.A.F. some months ago through No. 1 Recruiting Centre, Vancouver. Successfully he took basic training, elementary flying training and service flying training at various schools under the Commonwealth Air Training Plan throughout Canada.

Senators' Views Differ on Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Comment on President Roosevelt's message to Congress, Monday, follows:

Senator Walligra (Dem., Wash.): "The public generally will appreciate the necessity of taking prompt steps. That is what the people in the west are talking about and what they want."

Senator Guffey (Dem., Pa.): "I was very well pleased with the message. Oct. 1 is a short time for Congress to act, but we can get busy right away."

CALLED PISTOL

Senator LaFollette (Prog., Wis.): "The President has virtually placed a pistol at the head of Congress. It is very unfortunate that the President had accompanied a message on this vital question of control of our economy with a threat that unless Congress acts as he directs within a very short time he will exercise power he claims to possess and virtually enact legislation by executive fiat."

Senator Shipstead (Rep., Minn.): "It looks to me as though the President is trying to make out the farmer as the menace of the country. He wants to reduce farm prices but leave wages to the War Labor Board. He said if Congress doesn't repeal the farm price provisions, he will do it himself. I'd like to know where he gets that power."

Senator McNary (Rep., Ore.): "A notable document, proceeding generally in the right direction. The President's intimation is probably in excess of his constitutional power. However, I believe Congress will consider his suggestions with promptitude. Unrestrained inflation and wastage must be stopped."

BRINGING back memories of the days of long ago when baseball enjoyed tremendous popularity in this town, was that mob of over 2,500 that sat in on Friday night's Victoria Machinery Depot-Navy final. Even some of the old-timers couldn't remember a larger turn out. And what a battle it was, with the shipyard club pushing across the winning run in the last of the ninth. It was a bitter defeat for the Navy to have to swallow, especially that lion-hearted pitcher, Jimmy Dumeah.

V.M.D. take the Rithet Cup and the glory that surrounds a championship, but we feel there should be some kind of runner-up medal for that chap Dumeah. He was beaten, but if he had pulled the Navy through it would have been nothing short of a Herculean feat. Three turns on the mound in five days is something that just isn't done in the best of baseball circles. Even the big name hurlers of the majors would balk if called upon to work so often. They all like at least four days' rest between mound tricks.

Strolling into the V.M.D. dressing room, after it was all over, one was greeted by a regular bedlam as the boys staged a victory celebration. "Thank heaven it's all over and I can now get some rest," said coach-catcher Laurel Hardy. "Between work and so much baseball I have got a kink in my back that will take weeks to straighten out."

Charity Baseball Tomorrow

V.M.D. vs. All-Stars

Baseball will do its part towards charity tomorrow night when the city champion Victoria Machinery Depot stack up against the "Rest of the League" in a game to raise money for the A.R.P. Play will start at 6.

Every person who walks through the gate tomorrow night will buy a ticket, including the members of both clubs, umpires, press and league officials. Umpires and ticket sellers will give their services free so that every cent taken will be turned over to the cause.

In view of the fine support the baseballers have received all season the league officials are looking forward to raising a tidy sum for the charity.

Cagers Washed Up?

By SCOTT YOUNG
TORONTO (CP)—The word is about that the Canadian Basketball Association may be next major sports organization to fold for the duration. It has been more difficult to keep going than some others, because for many years only British Columbia, Ontario and Quebec have been producing good teams. Box lacrosse has the same trouble, but there are no signs of retrenchment in that sport. Guess anyone connected with box lacrosse is too tough to retreat. Mayor Fred Hume of New Westminster has promised the Salmonbellies he'll fly them east for the B.C. crown. That'll make New Westminster's two Ontario-trained players, Bill Wilkes (Orillia) and Ed Downey (St. Catharines), hit the opposition with increased enthusiasm.

Soft-spoken Ian Lowe, V.M.D. power-hitter and ranking infielder, was sporting a beautiful mouse under one eye as the result of taking Reg Patterson's throw on the optic. "Guess I'll have to make all my throws to the catcher if you fellows can't handle them," Patterson wisely cracked. "I never want to play in a tougher one," declared Charlie Strouger as he talked over the series.

Only chap who seemed a little down was pitcher Cy Shillito, who was taken out of the game in the fifth inning in favor of Ronnie Gervais. Shillito was worrying about some of the fans having the opinion he walked off the mound. "I never quit, because that was one ball game I had set my heart on winning," he said. Shillito went out of the game with the score tied and as a result Gervais received credit for the victory.

In sharp contrast was the scene in the Navy strip room. It was a disconsolate group that pulled off their uniforms and stepped under the showers. There was not a single Navy player who had not been confident of winning. Most dejected of the bunch was third baseman Wally Thompson, whose wild throw in the ninth cost his club the game. Thompson couldn't forget. Right fielder Jimmy Naughton was real worried. "Here I was so sure of winning that I got three days off to celebrate and now have nothing to do," he remarked.

Joe Casey will manage the picked team and, according to his list of players, the V.M.D. will be up against a "hot" squad. Players to appear with the all-stars include: Whitley Menard, Jimmy Dumeah, Jerry Whitney, Stan Curry, Noel Morgan, Weigand, Barney Barnswell, Lorne Murray, Jack Stratton, McGeechey, O'Reilly, Ken Van Hatten, Jack McIntyre, and Whitley, smart Navy catcher. All these boys are asked to be at the park early so as to give Casey plenty of time to figure his starting line-up against the champions.

Pat Steele, manager of the V.M.D., announced today he would have all his regulars on deck, and was looking forward to a tough game.

After engaging in a keen race with the Navy for the league title and the McGavin Cup the shipyarders participated in a thrilling five-game battle with the sailors for possession of the Rithet trophy, emblematic of the city honors. Tomorrow night, starting at 6, the V.M.D. will play a picked squad from the remainder of the league in a benefit game for the A.R.P. Tight National Race

Dodgers-Cards Split

Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals are giving the National League its typical tight finish, but both clubs seem likely to stay within the speed limit in the race down the stretch.

Both clubs looked tired and wobbly in dividing Labor Day doubleheaders and kept the margin between them unchanged at 2½ games.

Monday, at Boston, the Dodgers won, 11 to 4, with a six-run spurge in the fourth frame of the opener of a doubleheader, but lost the nightcap, 5 to 3.

The Cardinals showed the extent of their reaction to pressure by letting Pittsburgh Pirates score 11 runs after two were out in the sixth inning of the first game although Max Lanier had been given a five-run lead. The Pirates won, 11 to 6, but the Cards came back hot to take the nightcap, 8 to 4.

In the American League the story was a bit different with New York Yankees sweeping a doubleheader from Philadelphia Athletics and gaining half a game on Boston Red Sox, who won the one encounter that escaped the weatherman in Washington. This put the Yankees nine games in front and able to win another pennant by any combination of eight victories or eight Boston defeats from here out.

HOMER FOR CULLENBINE

Roy Cullenbine, latest acquisition of the world champions, hit a home run with two out in the ninth inning to decide the first game, 6 to 5. New York bunched 10 runs in the sixth inning of the second game to coast to an 11 to 2 verdict.

Boston clubbed Sid Heston for 14 hits and beat the Senators 9 to 7, although Washington worked down to the ninth inning with the score tied.

St. Louis Browns and Detroit Tigers divided their doubleheader. Detroit taking the first game 5 to 3. In the second game Harland Clift made five straight hits to bat in all runs as the Browns won 3 to 0.

New York Giants pounced on Philadelphia, twice, 5 to 3 and 4 to 0, to extend the Phils' losing streak to 13 games, longest of the National League season.

Bucky Walters finally achieved his 13th victory with a six-hit job as Cincinnati, held to seven blows by Bill Lee, nudged out Chicago Cubs, 5 to 1, in the first game of a doubleheader.

Then the Bruins took the second affair on the strength of Lou Stinger's three-run double in the eighth inning.

The Labor Day program drew 123,000 fans at seven parks.

COAST LEAGUE

It's just as well the Portland Beavers—the men who kept the Solons from topping the Coast Baseball League today—have no more appearances at Sacramento. Sacramento won the first game at Portland, Monday, 11 to 3. The second game was tied up in the last of the scheduled evening nightcap, but Portland's heavy-hitting Ted Norbert stepped up with a home run in the eighth which ended the ball game, 4 to 3.

Los Angeles, which clings to a precarious league lead, mean while dropped a doubleheader at Oakland, 1 to 0 and 4 to 2. Thus Norbert's bat and hurler Ad Liska's right arm kept the Solons from topping the league by the margin of one percentage point. A win would have given the Solons a percentage of .500 compared with the Angels' .589. All of which goes to show why the northern crew would be most unwelcome guests in the California capital.

San Francisco turned in a pair of victories at Hollywood with scores of 4 to 3 and 7 to 5, while Seattle let it be known that it still nursed pennant hopes by dusting off the visiting San Diego Padres 3 to 2 and 7 to 6. The performance was a repeat of Sunday's doubleheader.

R.A.F. Cricketers Lose on Mainland

VANCOUVER (CP)—Patricia Bay's R.A.F. cricketers dropped the third and rubber game to a strong Mainland League side here Monday, 216 to 167, in an all-day match played before the largest crowd of the season.

On two occasions it looked as if the airman would be easy winners, but the game took a complete change in favor of the mainlanders each time.

Batting first, the mainland league side lost seven wickets before lunch for 120 runs, including such strong bats as Percy Broadfoot, Wally Scott, Tommy Reed, Sgt. Don Kennedy, Stan Bullen, Jim Brandon and Bill Hendy. Hendy was the only one of the seven to make a decent score in compiling 45.

But after the interval, the R.A.F. bowlers lost their strength completely, and Jack Rush hit up 54, Kenny Mair 41 and Bert Rush 16 not out, scoring so rapidly they increased the total by nearly 100 runs in 30 minutes.

V.M.D. Captures Pair of Holiday Baseball Games

Two Errorless Stands Against Bellingham

City champion Victoria Machinery Depot ball team celebrated its first appearance since capturing the honors by taking Monday's holiday twin bill from Bellingham Bells, 3 to 2 and 9 to 6 before large audiences.

After nosing out the visitors in the morning by pushing across a lone run, in the ninth, the shipyarders went to town behind the brilliant, two-hit hurling of Tommy Musgrave to hand the American club a whitewashing in the afternoon.

Featuring the 15-hit attack on a pair of hurlers in the second game were two towering home runs over the centre field by shortstop Ian Lowe. The first one came with Restell on first base but the bags were empty for the second round-tripper.

After taking a two-run lead in the last of the first V.M.D. always looked the better club. They forced statting pitcher, Joe Martindale, to leave the game in the fifth in favor of Clarence Marshall who had worked the morning tilt. Martindale was nicksed for five runs and nine hits.

Musgrave turned in one of his best performances of the season, striking out 10 and walking three. The big right-hander worked a fast ball with a sharp curve and change of pace.

V.M.D. turned in 18 innings of errorless ball.

CUPS PRESENTED

During the afternoon game Alderman Lloyd Morgan presented the McGavin and Rithet Cups to captain Laurel Harney of the V.M.D. for winning the league and city championships.

Morning game was a thrilling pitching duel between Cy Shillito, V.M.D., and Marshall, Bellingham High School star. It was a tough one for Marshall to drop as he held the Victoria champions to four hits while his teammates collected 13. Shillito got himself into several bad holes in the late innings but always tightened up in the clutch. Shillito struck out six and Marshall seven.

Game produced a smart finish with the V.M.D. pushing over the winning run in the last of the ninth with a perfect "squeeze" play. With the clubs deadlocked 2 to 2, Lowe opened the inning with a triple to left field. The hit looked like a single but it went for three bases when the ball took a bad hop over the outfielder's shoulder. Patterson popped up to the first sacker and Work stroled to the plate. Lowe reeled in from third on the first pitch but Work found it off. They tried hard and for the second time the batter hit foul. On the third attempt the Babe laid down a perfect bunt and Lowe scored easily with the winning run.

V.M.D. moved into a two-run lead in the fourth on two hits and a pair of errors by O'Brien, Bellingham shortstop. The visitors came back with a pair in the top half of the fifth on four clean singles by Padovan, Gaffney, Marshall and Hickok. For the next three and a half innings the clubs played shutout ball.

Short score's follow:

'Old Contemptibles' Here Recall Early Days of 1914

Two of the remaining few of Britain's 'Old Contemptibles'... Edward Spencer of Victoria meets Frederick Davies of Everett, Wash. Both were over there in 1914.

By IRIS SMALLWOOD

Few of the valiant "Old Contemptibles" are alive today. But there is one in Victoria, Edward Spencer, who today recalls the events of that heroic push in August-September, 1914, which resulted in the desperate battles at Le Cateau, the Marne, and Mons.

It was the German Kaiser who in September, 1914, gave to the British army the name "Contemptibles"—a term, first used in derision, that has ironically enough, become a byword of valour to distinguish the Old Army under General French from all other troops. A bulletin issued direct from German Staff Headquarters, ordered "by supreme command... the annihilation of General French's contemptible little army."

MONS' SYMBOLIC

The name of Mons to the British may well symbolize the whole of the last war; and not without reason, for the battle of Mons was probably the pivot on which the succeeding four years of war turned.

It was after Mons that von Kluck signalled to Berlin, "Information, please. I have met half a million British." When asked for proof he replied simply, "I have suffered half a million casualties."

Half a million casualties—the cream of a nation bred to war—inflicted by less than 100,000 Britishers! That is food for thought for those who timorously incline to the belief that the Hun is invincible.

"To this day I carry the vivid recollection of that fateful afternoon," said Mr. Spencer.

WALK INTO TRAP

"The troops with ground sheets slung over their shoulders were trudging wearily through the drizzling rain, when suddenly there was the smack of bullets around them, and the metallic crackle of machine guns opening fire in front—the British troops had walked into a trap!"

"Like one man the battalion went to the ground while the situation was reconnoitred. Then came the order:

"Attack! A Company echelon outward! They advanced into the maelstrom of fire, the company officer with his sword in the direction of the enemy.

"A Company, sights at 350. Rapid fire! B Company, rapid fire! C Company, rapid fire!" until the grease ran like treacle from our smoking rifles. As D Company joined action I paused to survey the zig-zagged front line of my regiment with here and there motionless forms sprawling over their rifles.

"Presently firing died away, and white flags were thrust up from the enemy's trench line. There's a helmet apiece over there," someone shouted, and that started the rush. In those days, apart from our one shilling, a day, a souvenir helmet represented almost our only reward.

2,000 HUN DEAD

"But we were not to collect those helmets, and the sight that met our eyes made our very souls sick. Two thousand Germans lay dead, their helmets riddled like sieves, leaving 600, many of them wounded, to surrender.

"How many machine guns have you in your battalion?" I was asked by a German officer with a marked Oxford accent. On my replying that there were two, but they had both been out of action for some days, he replied: "Nonsense, no rifle fire could be so dense and accurate as that. You must have a battalion of machine guns."

"It was inconceivable to him that 500 men armed only with rifles could liquidate 2,600 Germans in 15 minutes. But he had reckoned without that secret weapon which the Britisher always seems to be able to produce out of the bag in a crisis—guts. "In the last war," Mr. Spencer reiterated, "it was by sheer guts we beat the enemy. It is the conviction of those few of the Old Contemptibles who are left, that we will win this war in the same manner."

Before his service in the last war, Mr. Spencer was with a Liverpool regiment, and for six years was in India and Afghanistan. His son Ted is now training with the flying corps near Calgary.

School Drama Guild

Miss Ruth Thompson, secretary of the Esquimalt High School Dramatic Club, writes in a recent issue of the B.C. School Drama Guild Bulletin: "Edith Benson and I wish to express our sincere thanks to the department (School Drama Guild) for the lovely book awarded to us as a prize for our radio play. 'It was a very suitable prize. We had no thought of winning and were consequently greatly encouraged. We hope to enter in many other dramatic activities.' The radio play contest she mentions is one of the contests sponsored by the B.C. School Drama Guild.

The boys of St. Louis College were also mentioned in the bulletin for presenting a very interesting and entertaining concert in June. The play presented was "Summer Comes to the Diamond O." by Robert Finch and Betty Smith. Those taking part were: Reginald Clarkson, John Battie, Maurice Cownden, Daniel O'Connell, Ken King, Philip Molloy, Gerald Sullivan, Walter Grey. Extra Steamers Needed to Handle Holiday Traffic Holiday travel over the Labor Day week-end, usually large in comparison with other seasons, was pretty well maintained this year, but the greater volume was, of necessity, diverted to steamer traffic.

Boats plying out of Victoria carried particularly heavy loads of passengers seeking a pleasant diversion over the holiday and extra steamers had to be operated to adequately handle the rush of business between here and Vancouver.

Passenger agents, asked to estimate the number of people traveling over the holiday were unable to give any figures, but it was generally agreed that thousands were booked.

Apart from the regular daily steamer service maintained by the C.P.R., extra boats were requisitioned to take care of the overflow Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, the last of the holiday crowds returning to Victoria by the early boat today.

Due to the gasoline and tire restrictions, there was noticeably less highway traffic during the holiday. The regular bus services were heavily patronized and the street cars also carried heavy loads, the parks and various points of interest about the city and district attracting many people.

Larger proportion of automobile traffic on Monday was made up of people returning to the city from summer camps and cottages.

In city court today traffic cases included one motorist, fined $10 for passing a standing streetcar, one fined $5 for failing to draw to the curb during a fire alarm, one fined $5 for parking too close to a hydrant and eight fined for infractions of other parking regulations.

Policeman Injured In Motorcycle Crash

Royal Jubilee Hospital authorities said today the condition of Constable Norman Galbraith of the city police force, who was injured when his motorcycle and a car collided Saturday night at Rock Bay Avenue and Gorge Road, was good.

According to police reports, Constable Galbraith was proceeding east on Gorge Road in pursuit of a motorcar when an automobile in front of him turned, colliding with the side of the car throwing him to the pavement. He suffered a fractured leg and cut and bruises.

Slight damage resulted when an auto driven west on Pandora and turning south onto Blanshard by Harold F. Ketchell, 1496 Fort Street, and a Blue Line bus driven by R. Veness, 3060 Albion Street, collided Saturday afternoon.

City police reported the left front fender of an auto driven east on Johnson near Alston Road by James A. Stewart, 607 Michigan Street, was damaged when a car driven west on Johnson by Leslie C. Phillips, 1534 Gladstone Avenue, cut out onto the wrong side of the street.

The fall meeting of the Mission to Lepers will be held Thursday afternoon at 3 at 1012 Chancelain Street. Speaker, F. W. Bird of Pasadena.

Saturday's tag day in aid of the Comaught Seamen's Institute work for the men of the Merchant Navy met with generous response. After all expenses are paid the sum of $610 will be added to the funds. The tag was sponsored by the Women's Guild of the Institute, with Mrs. F. McKenzie, convenor, who expressed gratitude to all who gave and assisted in any way. One little girl brought to headquarters a tightly-wrapped $5 bill with a note enclosed: "With very grateful thanks to the men of the Merchant Navy."

Study Cheques in Fraud Trial

Someone at 'P.B.' Got Funds Witness Told

Money from certain B.C. government cheques cashed by Wm. Cathcart Co. Ltd. was handed back to "some one at the Parliament Buildings," Ernest V. Morris, store auditor, said he had been informed by Joseph A. Walsh, managing-director of Cathcart's.

Mr. Morris made that statement as he gave evidence on the shoe company's books as preliminary hearing continued today on a charge of conspiracy to defraud against Mr. Walsh and J. Simmons, former quarter-master of provincial police stores. The hearing was adjourned at 1 by Magistrate Hall until 10 Thursday morning.

Company books and other documents were admitted after contest by Joseph McKenna, counsel for Mr. Walsh, who contended they had been used in the departmental inquiry on police stores and seized by Sgt. A. Jacklin, Provincial Police, although his client had been given the protection of the Canada Evidence Act at the enquiry.

Mr. Morris identified the documents and explained the shoe company's record system. He said he had questioned Mr. Walsh regarding certain entries of cheques from the B.C. government which involved no shoe deals. Several of those cheques were listed in amounts of $698, $1,600, $300 and $1,495.

JUST CASHED CHEQUES

Cheques were received by Mr. Walsh and no credit given to the B.C. government, witness testified. Later refunds were listed. Witness said he understood the refunds were made to the government, but did not know why. Mr. Walsh had explained no goods were handled, but that the firm had merely cashed the cheques.

Mr. Morris said he did not know to whom the refunds were made.

Obituaries

Mrs. A. Plump, 84, Born Here, Dies

Mrs. Angelique Plump, 84, native daughter of Victoria, who had never been off Vancouver Island, died Sunday at Mount St. Mary.

Mrs. Plump's father, Wm. Auger, was one of 15 men who came to Victoria with Sir James Douglas, landing at Clover Point in 1842. For years he was in the service of the Hudson's Bay Company and the family homestead, on 27 acres, was in the Colquitz district.

Mrs. Plump's first husband was John Stevens, assistant engineer of the old Victoria volunteer fire department. The Plump home for years was at the corner of Springfield and Wilson Streets, Victoria West. In later years Mrs. Plump resided at 825 Cormorant Street. Her memory was remarkable to the end and she loved to recall pioneer days—her schooling at Craigflower, where she was one of the first pupils, ox cart rides to church with her mother and the time when the island was nothing but bush and sheep trails.

Surviving are two sons, Alex Stevens of Victoria and Henry (Toots) Plump of Union Bay, and a daughter, Effective Sept. 14, the Gulf Islands service will be as follows: Leave Vancouver 9 a.m. Monday for Victoria via Gulf Islands; leave Victoria 10.30 a.m. Tuesday for Vancouver via Gulf Islands; Thursday and Saturday, leave Vancouver 9 a.m. for Gulf Islands and return.

Powell River-Comox service remains in effect with the following change: Effective on and after Sept. 28, the steamer from Comox at 6 p.m. each Sunday will revert to 2.30 p.m. Sidney.

who the money was going to, he said he'd rather not tell me. I gathered from that it was going to the Liberal Party," witness said.

"Did he say that?" asked J. B. Clearhue, K.C., who appears with W. C. Moresby, K.C., for the Crown.

"Not exactly," witness replied. Mr. Morris was asked by P. J. Simcox, counsel for Mr. Simmons, why he thought that.

"I'd rather not say," he replied. "Asked for an answer, he said: 'The reputation of the Liberal Party was not very good at that time'."

Questioned by Mr. McKenna on the same point in relation to a cheque cashed in 1938, Mr. Morris said:

"As far as I can remember the (Mr. Walsh) said it was a government cheque cashed by Cathcart's and that the money was handed back to someone at the buildings."

The entry of the cheque, witness had been told, was nothing to do with the shoe business.

Mr. Morris testified he had been auditor for the shoe firm before Mr. Walsh became managing-director, but recollected no such entries prior to Mr. Walsh taking charge.

TURNED OVER MONEY

Miss Audrey Harness, book-keeper for the shoe firm, identified certain government cheques she had cashed. In some instances she had placed a certain amount of money in the bank to Cathcart's account and had turned over the rest to Mr. Walsh.

She identified invoices and vouchers and said in some cases other records, such as sales slips, were lacking to prove shoe deals went through.

One invoice covering purchase of suede pumps, canvas shoes and oxfords had been made out as high and low boots for the provincial police, she said.

She was still on the stand at adjournment.

Stevenson service by the Motor Princess remains in effect up to and including Sept. 15, after which it will be discontinued for the season.

Jap Murder Case In Appeal Court

Court of Appeal today reserved judgment in the appeal of Robert Hughes et al, charged with the murder of a Japanese in Vancouver last winter. Appeal was taken from an order of Mr. Justice Sidney Smith reviving sentence of death to Nov. 18.

Hughes, John Petryk, Wm. C. Billamy and Floyd Berrigan were originally sentenced to be hanged July 15 for the murder of the Japanese. On June 29 the Court of Appeal quashed the conviction and ordered a new trial.

The Crown, through Attorney-General Maitland, appealed this order to the Supreme Court of Canada and asked for a reprieve.

Angelo Branca, appearing for Hughes, argued the appellants were not now prisoners sentenced to death within the Criminal Code and that a judge could not impose a sentence that did not exist.

Alfred Bull, K.C., moved to quash the new appeal on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction to hear such an appeal. The only right given in criminal cases to appeal, he argued, is against a conviction, by the accused or against an acquittal by the Crown or from sentence and that this order did not fall in any of these three rights of appeal.

Chief Justice D. A. McDonald said he had no fear the men would hang as long as reprieve can be granted.

Mr. Justice Gordon Sloan commented that the section of the Criminal Code that permitted an acquitted man to be kept in jail pending the Attorney-General expressing his intention to appeal, is unreasonable and that it was a surprise to him such a section was passed in Parliament without protest from the lawyer members of the House of Commons.

The court allowed appeal of Crewe vs. Star Publishing Company and judgment was set aside.

Obituaries

Mrs. A. Plump, 84, Born Here, Dies

Mrs. Angelique Plump, 84, native daughter of Victoria, who had never been off Vancouver Island, died Sunday at Mount St. Mary.

Mrs. Plump's father, Wm. Auger, was one of 15 men who came to Victoria with Sir James Douglas, landing at Clover Point in 1842. For years he was in the service of the Hudson's Bay Company and the family homestead, on 27 acres, was in the Colquitz district.

Mrs. Plump's first husband was John Stevens, assistant engineer of the old Victoria volunteer fire department. The Plump home for years was at the corner of Spring and Wilson Streets, Victoria.

Her memory was remarkable to the end and she loved to recall pioneer days—her schooling at Craigflower, where she was one of the first pupils, ox cart rides to church with her mother and the time when the island was nothing but bush and sheep trails.

Surviving are two sons, Alex Stevens of Victoria and Henry (Toots) Plump of Union Bay, and a daughter, Mrs. Mayme Finn of Omaha, widow of the bandmaster of the original 5th Regiment.

Remains are resting in the chapel of Sands Mortuary, from where the cortege will leave at 8.50 a.m. Thursday for St. Andrew's Cathedral, where requiem high mass will be sung. Interment at Ross Bay. Prayers will be said Wednesday evening in Sands chapel.

New G.O.C. Arrives

Coast a 2nd Front Says Gen. Pearkes

MAJ.-GEN. PEARKE, V.C., right, greeting Prime Minister Mackenzie King on his arrival in Ottawa from overseas Friday.

"I look upon this as a second front," said Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., on his arrival here Sunday to take up his appointment as General Officer Commanding-in-Chief, Pacific Command. "There is no good minding matters. I have every intention of putting heart and soul into the work of getting myself and my troops into condition for the inevitable day when they will go into action."

Gen. Pearkes said he would not say that this province was going to be invaded but—

"We can't win this war by sitting down. I don't know where it's going to end but certainly the troops here are not just for home defence. We've got to fight somewhere."

Elated at returning to British Columbia to command the forces defending the coast where his home is located, expressing gratification at the confidence placed in him by the government and tremendously impressed by what he has seen of Canada since his return from England last week, the general lived up to his advance notices as a colorful, fighting figure.

Straight as a ramrod, a springy step belying the grey hair that marks his 54-years, the new G.O.C. walked up and down the room at his headquarters at Work Point soon after his arrival and expounded his views of the defence of this area in swift, telling phrases, raising his voice in emphasis at times.

GOOD MEN NEEDED

"I want stout-hearted soldiers here," he said. "They are more important than defensive earthworks. We know men can't fight in this war without armour; it would be useless slaughter. But neither can armour fight without brave men."

"By stout-hearted men I mean men of high morale, well-trained tactically and in the use of weapons and, above all, physically fit. Not physically fit to play and win games but fit to stand privation."

"It is my view that discipline and morale are intimately linked. Not barrack square discipline but battle discipline under which a man will consider it more of a crime to be slack in action than on the parade ground."

"I believe in saluting, it makes for alertness. I always salute my fellow-soldiers and say 'Good morning' when I do so. It's one way to get to know them, something I intend to do. There's no difference between a general and private after all—we're all in it together doing the particular job to which we have been called; but I am going to insist upon alertness."

"The Japs are alert little devils and we've got to beat them at their own game."

There was genuine affection in Gen. Pearkes' voice when he was asked about his men of the 1st Division in England.

"There's nothing I can say that would do them justice. They could outmarch and outfight anything overseas," he said, and intimated that if the troops here were not yet up to that standard he would bring them to it."

WANTS TOUGH MEN

"I want to develop in them a feeling that they can revel in their toughness. Not the toughness that is marked by rough appearance or language but something hard and clean. It's the spirit of Roger's Rangers we want here; men who can come back from three to four days campaigning, living off the country, marching and fighting and take pride in what they are doing."

"I intend to put that spirit into my troops and myself. You can say that I'll never ask them to do anything I won't do myself."

Gen. Pearkes said he was impressed by the development he had been able to see in his flight across Canada mentioning the vast airfields and training centres, the huge industrial plants and general air of high activity.

"I was also impressed by the way in which Canada is putting her back into the war," he said. "It is very important that every one of us, soldier and civilian, do his own job with all his might. That's what will win."

"Another thing that pleased me was that the first parade of troops I saw here was a church parade. It was symbolic because I don't think we can win this

NEWEST 'BLONDIE' HIT AT DOMINION

Because folks have taken to calling him Dagwood Bumstead, and because he wants to get ahead, Dagwood Bumstead currently is embarked upon the most hectic adventure of his merry screen life. According to advance reports, "Blondie Goes to College," which opens today at the Dominion Theatre, is easily the merriest comedy of misadventure yet encountered by the favorite fun family, the comic strip characters created for the newspapers by Chic Young, and brought to the screen in all their inimitable glory by Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake and Larry Simms.

Latest in Columbia's popular Blondie series, "Blondie Goes to College" has been hailed by Hollywood as the funniest of the comedies to date. And that, if advance accounts of the story are to be considered, and fond memories of previous Blondie successes are to be recalled, is saying a great deal!

"Blondie Goes to College" enlists the services of lovely Janet Blair, as a coed; Larry Parks, as the campus athletic hero and Dagwood's major romantic "rival"—the Bumsteads' efforts to establish a campus flirtation are constantly and hilariously side-tracked—and Cliff "Double Talk" Nazarro, as a professor.

YORK THEATRE

Sam Garrett, seven times world's champion roper and life-long friend of the late Will Rogers, plays an important role in Universal's new Abbott and Costello laughfilm, "Ride 'Em Cowboy," current attraction at the York Theatre. Garrett appears in both the Long Island and Arizona rodeo sequences of the picture.

Trails of Garrett and Rogers first crossed when they were schoolboys in Claremore, Okla. They made their show world debut together in 1905, when they joined Zach Mulhall's Wild West Circus. In 1907 they toured Europe together.

Garrett works with such outstanding screen players as Dick Foran, Anne Gwynne, Johnny Mack Brown, Samuel S. Hinds, The Merry Macs, Ella Fitzgerald and others in "Ride 'Em Cowboy."

RIO THEATRE

It is little wonder that George Formby is, for the third year in succession, top of the motion picture poll as Britain's favorite star, when he turns out such excellent pictures as "Spare a Copper," which filmgoers must see at the Rio Theatre today.

In this Michael Balcon production he finds yet another venue for his comedy—this time as a War Reserve policeman who cherishes an ambition to become a member of the Flying Squad.

Attempts to sabotage the building of a new warship provides the dramatic theme for this hilarious comedy, during the course of which the star becomes involved in the most amazing and amusing adventures.

war without Divine assistance. We must look upon it in the nature of Crusade."

The general said his first job, one that he is entering into immediately, is one of examination and inspection of the nature of defences here, their extent and efficiency.

Where to Go Tonight

ATLAS—"Tortilla Flat" with Spencer Tracy and Hedy Lamarr.
CADET—Ronald Reagan in "International Squadron."
CAPITOL—Ray Milland and Paulette Goddard in "Reap the Wild Wind."
DOMINION—Penny Singleton in "Blondie Goes to College."
OAK BAY AND PLAZA—"Eagle Squadron" starring Robert Stack and Diana Barrymore.
RIO—George Formby in "Spare a Copper."
YORK—"Ride 'Em Cowboy" starring Abbott and Costello.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES

Walter Wanger's new Universal production, "Eagle Squadron," the first screen story of American fighter pilots in the Royal Air Force, is the attraction at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

Heading a long and imposing cast are Robert Stack and Diana Barrymore, who is making her motion picture debut in "Eagle Squadron."

Other notable players include Jon Hall, Eddie Albert, Nigel Bruce, Evelyn Ankers, Lief Erikson, John Loder, Edgar Barrier, Isabel Elsom, Gladys Cooper, Paul Cavanagh, Richard Davies, Jill Esmond, Gene Reynolds and Alan Hale, Jr.

ATLAS THEATRE

Greatly admired for its breathtaking realism, the "Tortilla Flat" set was paid the sincerest compliment of them all by a humble sea gull.

Covering two acres, the setting for the film was a flawless visual recreation of John Steinbeck's colorful paisano settlement, including the distant curve of Monterey Bay, with its busy wharves and fishing boats.

The sea gull, hired at $2.50 per day, was perched contentedly atop a house for atmosphere. For hours he kept his place, occasionally munching on a fish and apparently keenly interested in the scenes being played below by Spencer Tracy, Hedy Lamarr and John Garfield. "Tortilla Flat" is now being shown at the Atlas Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Three rousing cheers for Cecil B. DeMille, the only man in Hollywood who could have made "Reap the Wild Wind" the rousing, rowdy, resplendent riot of color, adventure and sheer "bigness" that it is. The film, starring Ray Milland, Paulette Goddard and John Wayne, is currently at the Capitol Theatre.

DeMille took a thrilling story, written by Thelma Strabel, and published in the Saturday Evening Post, and turned it into as thrilling a Technicolor movie as the eyes have ever seen.

CADET THEATRE

Filling the Cadet Theatre screen with thrills, "International Squadron," which opened there yesterday, is just about the most exciting film fare you could ask for. Strong personal drama, and the breathless adventures of the valiant men who are writing history in the skies, combine to make "International Squadron" the big adventure story of the year.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP) Trading in wheat was dull on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today with only a small volume of business transacted. The October wheat future closed unchanged at 90 cents a bushel. At Chicago wheat was higher.

Southern houses showed good support in barley with about 300,000 bushels taken. Prices were higher following the trend at Chicago, where buying was prompted following President Roosevelt's address yesterday.

Only odd lots traded in the cash wheat market.

Dorothy Dix:

Child Is Maimed for Life If Parents Are Divorced

Dear Miss Dix—My husband and I no longer love each other. We are still friendly and our home is very happy. We never quarrel and we still occasionally go out together. We have kept up appearances for the sake of our three-year-old baby girl.

My husband feels that due to the fact that we are congenial, that he provides everything we need—although I am self-sufficient—that we have a beautiful home, that we never annoy each other and both love the baby dearly we should keep our home intact and seek what pleasures we both want outside. I feel otherwise. I am only 30, attractive, and I want love and affection from the man I am living with.

This, my husband says, he cannot give me. This feeling between us has gone on for almost two and one-half years. I want a divorce. My husband says he will not contest one provided he can see the baby whenever he wants to, but he is willing to go on living the way we have because of the baby. Am I right in wanting this divorce? Will my baby suffer from the separation of her parents? Is there still time for me to meet a man who can give me the love I crave?

IN DOUBT.

Answer: Your baby will suffer if you take from her a loving father's affection and guidance and nothing that you can give her will atone to her for her loss. To deprive a child of either a mother or a father is to maim it for life just as truly as if you had chopped off one of its arms or one of its legs. The consensus among all those who have to deal with the children of divorced parents is that in one way or another it warps their natures. It makes them hard and sophisticated and bitter, or they develop a morbid self-consciousness and resent not having normal homes, and a father and mother, like other children. Nothing that the one remaining parent can do makes up to them for not having both.

One of the most pathetic instances I have ever known was that of a small boy whose mother was divorced from his father, getting the janitor of the apartment in which he lived to sign his school report because he said all other boys' reports were not signed by their mothers, but by a man.

EXPECT THE IMPOSSIBLE

Can you think of any position more miserable for a child whose parents are divorced and remarried than being shunted back and forth between the two households, knowing he or she had no settled place, in either one and was embarrassed in both?

Don't you think the real trouble between you and your husband is that you are expecting the impossible of marriage? You have been married nine years and you think you should still have the thrills and romance of the honeymoon. Believe me, the thrills do not last that long for anyone.

After nine years of the ups and downs of every-day wedlock, even the happiest marriage has settled down into a beautiful friendship. There are no more thrills to it, no more palpitations, no more fevers and agues. But there is truth and faith and remembered kindnesses, and peace and comfort and the blessed assurance of being needed and of belonging to someone. Any couple who, after nine years, find themselves congenial and who can live together in peace and harmony, love each other, whether they know it or not and they will be mighty sorry for it if they are foolish enough to part.

ANNOYED BY HER CHILDREN

Dear Miss Dix—You tell mothers to keep out of the way and give their daughters a chance when their boy friends call on them. What about children keeping out of the way, when their mother, who is a widow, has her friends come to see her? Mine stick around and talk until the man leaves the house, and give me so little chance to talk to him that I am at the point of being rebellious. I am very lonesome and I want my man all by myself. I don't mind having them around for a little while, but not for the whole evening.

I work hard all day and often until late at night to give them a decent home and I do feel that I might have a little bit of it myself once in a while. I'm not the kind of a mother who will run her children out. I want them to scam by themselves. They are old enough to know when they are wanted and when they are not. I don't want to tell them to beat it, for I hate to hurt them.

feelings and make them think they are unwanted—but—LORETTA.

Answer: Well, Loretta, I don't know what you can do with sociable children who like company unless you gag them or throttle them or lock them up in a dark closet when your gentleman friend calls.

You see they are lonesome and bored with mother-being away at work all day, and when she comes home and an agreeable man drops in, things cheer up and they want to have a part in it. They never dream for an instant that they are not adding to the pleasure of the occasion by showing how they can stand on their heads or putting the dog through his tricks, or spending hours discussing on how they are building an airplane, or what the captain of their school football team did and said.

Children can't take a hint. They are not subtle enough for that, so you will have to take them aside and explain very frankly that when mother has company they are expected to make themselves scarce.

But, have you considered that the children afford you valuable protection against gossip? No scandal-monger would dare asperse the character of a widow who was chaperoned by a bevy of sharp-eyed prying youngsters. Also, it is well that any suitor should make the acquaintance of his prospective ready-made family should he have matrimony in view.

But I am sorry to say that children are no asset to a lonesome widow who is looking out for No. 2.

Life of William Shakespeare: Childhood and Youth

Among all writers in history, no other name shines more brightly than that of William Shakespeare. Some persons call him "the greatest writer who ever lived," and surely no man has been better gifted in the art of using words.

There are not many records of Shakespeare's childhood and youth, but we may feel sure that he was eager for knowledge, and that he saw many things which others did not notice. In his plays he showed a wide knowledge of the outdoor world, as well as of human nature.

At the age of about 13, the boy had to end his studies at school. His father, while taking care of a growing family, had fallen into debt, and no longer could afford to send him to school.

Will went to work, but no one knows just what he did. Possibly he became a clerk in a lawyer's office.

Are You the Kind of Man Who Tinkers Around the House

... and are you living in a rented house now? Stop being a renter. Buy a home of your own. There are plenty of beautifully-built houses in Victoria ... being advertised each day in the TIMES Classified Pages.

Many of the houses without the smooth, suave exteriors of today's "modern" paragons of architecture will give you more satisfaction in owning.

Built in times when workmen ... carpenters, finishers, plasterers, electricians ... could spend time in building carefully ... these used ... lived-in houses ... are today BETTER buys than a current model at the same price.

Look at the REAL ESTATE ads in today's TIMES. Note the fine buys in houses that are a little mellowed by years ... and buy NOW a house that a little renovation, a little repair, will make "the home you've always wanted to tinker around in."
